ANGLO-ITALIAN RELATIONS

Friendly Approaches In London

(Hong Kong Daily Press Special)
London, Nov. 14.

Though the fact that a long conversation took place on Friday evening between Mr. Eden and the Italian Ambassador, Signor Grandi, was confirmed at the Foreign Office on Saturday, no details as to the subjects discussed were revealed. It was, however, stated that friendly approaches had been made by Italy and that the interview between two Foreign Ministers concerned this matter.

Signor Grandi will leave London shortly in order to attend the Grand Fascist Council in Rome when it is assumed that he will take the opportunity of reporting in detail to Signor Mussolini on the standpoint of the British Government.

The latter's attitude is known to be that Anglo-Italian negotiations leading to rapprochement between the two countries are eminently desirable, but the initiative in this matter must be taken formally by Rome.

"Who's That Lady?"

Latest Diversion

"Oddities in the day's news! Don't let your evenings be dull, and don't suffer from ennui!"

If you feel that "Knock! Knock!" is getting stale, turn your attention to the latest fad in Hollywood where the indoor sportsmen have consigned "handier" and "knock-knocks" to a deep grave, and turned to a new verbal mania for diversion.

It's called "Who Was the Lady?" and it goes like this:

"Who was that lady?"
"That was no lady, that was an aviator and she gave me the air." The Marx brothers are charged with having started it. They deny everything.

Some "choice" lines Hollywood wits have figured are:

"That was no lady. She was a teacher, and she made little things count."

DYSENTERY SCOURGE

What Is Being Done

25 Cases: 7 Deaths

"NOT A NOTIFIABLE DISEASE"

Within three days at least twenty-five verified cases of dysentery resulting in seven deaths of young European children have caused a grave concern in the Colony which, in default of a frank and fearless statement by those responsible for the safeguarding of the health of the public, is likely to increase.

THE FACTS

Twenty-five cases have been admitted to the Kowloon Hospital since Wednesday, November 11, and several at the Victoria Hospital.

The following have died from dysentery in the last few days: John, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marden, 114, Argyle Street, Kowloon. Died at the War Memorial Nursing Home on Friday.

John Herbert, infant son of Capt. and Mrs. J. Beck, of 211, Prince Edward Road, Kowloon. Died at the War Memorial Nursing Home on Friday.

Norman Wilson, aged 3, and Colin Wilson, aged 18 months, sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lean, of the Torpedo Department, Royal Naval Yard, Kowloon. The former died on Thursday, and the latter succumbed the following day at the Kowloon Hospital.

David Brian, 9 months-old son of Capt. and Mrs. D. Wilson, died on Thursday.

The infant son of Lieut.-Comdr. and Mrs. Stirling Hamilton, of the Fourth Submarine Flotilla, died on Saturday.

The infant son of Lieut. and Mrs. Jenks, R.N., died on Saturday.

Diwali Festival

Hindu Merchants Celebrate

Altogether about 150 persons consisting of local Hindu silk merchants and their families gathered yesterday at the Buxey Lodge in No. 37 Conduit Road to celebrate the festival of Diwali, which fell on Friday last.

A most enjoyable day was spent, the celebrations beginning from 11 o'clock in the morning and concluding at 7 p.m.

The rooms of Buxey Lodge were lavishly decorated. During the day games were indulged in by the children, whose happy faces gave ample evidence of the jolly time they were having. Hindu songs, in which the whole party joined in chorus, were sung with gusto while a good number of the men present partook in a game of billiards.

Tiffin and tea were served and in memory of the occasion, a group photograph was taken.

In view of the celebrations, all the local Indian silk stores were closed to business yesterday.

At the waterfront in Kowloon, near the Marina hockey field, a vast concourse of Hindus gathered in a brief ceremony in commemoration of the festival.

"BABY" NATION CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Philippine Commonwealth

FILIPINO COMMUNITY "EN FETE"

The anniversary of the Commonwealth of the Philippines was celebrated at the Peninsula Hotel yesterday afternoon when members of the local Filipino community turned out en masse to commemorate the first birthday of their independence.

The function was marked by the presence of two local residents, Messrs. R. P. de la Sala and R. Bass, direct descendants of Antonio Regidor and Ricardo Bass, two of the thirteen illustrious men of the Filipino nation, who by their loyalty and patriotism paved the way for the independence of their peoples. Mr. Bass has settled in Hong Kong for many years and the esteem with which he is held by the Filipino community here has won for him the nickname of "Consul General."

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The celebration commenced with a luncheon in the Rose Room which was followed by a concert given by musical members of the community, during which Mr. R. P. de la Sala, president of the Filipino Club, made his address as follows:—

A year ago to-day, the Commonwealth of the Philippines, albeit inchoate and semi-sovereign, was ushered into the family of nations.

The keynote of modern colonization was struck when on that historic 15th day of November, 1935, the United States of America constituted and brought into being the Commonwealth of the Philippines.

EVOLUTION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Prof. Nixon's Lecture On Mind And Body

Below is published the concluding portion of the lecture on
"Mind and Body" given by Prof. W. C. W. Nixon, before the H.
K. University Medical Society meeting on Friday.

Darwin's researches gave a tremendous impetus to the shaping of contemporary psychology since they implied a psychological factor in evolution. In the Descent of Man he showed the similarity between human reasoning and processes of the animal mind. The mental gulf between man and the rest of the animal kingdom was bridged. With the name of Darwin (b.1809) must be coupled that of Galton (b.1822). It was the latter who investigated the problem of individual differences and devised a statistical method "coefficient of correlation" in order to find the relation between mental qualities. By raising the problem of individual differences and the creation of this instrument of research, he is entitled to a foremost place as a pioneer of contemporary psychology. Again Darwin's studies led to the discovery of genetic relations between animals, primitive peoples, children and abnormal persons with normal adults in respect of mental processes.

PAVLOV'S RESEARCHES

Before concluding this historical survey, mention must be made of the researches of the Russian physiologist, Pavlov, recently deceased. Although he openly flouted the Bolshevik regime he was allowed, in view of his brilliant contributions to the scientific world, every privilege, consideration and liberty. He paved the way for the establishment of the modern school of Behaviourism which has many adherents. He induced salivation in dogs as a reaction to the ringing of a bell after the bell had been rung a number of times in connection with the presentation of food. Similarly, with very young children a fear-reaction can be produced when they are startled by a noise associated with the sight of an object for which the child shows no fear. A dog in which the infant had previously only shown interest, afterwards induced fear-behaviour if it had been seen at the same time as the child had been frightened by a violent noise. Thus we become "conditioned" and complex behaviour can be explained by environmental "conditioning".

PRESENT POSITION OF PSYCHOLOGY

The psychological and social sciences are, it is universally admitted, in a lamentably backward state as compared with those other sciences which deal with our physical environment. Since the War our whole outlook has changed and is changing as the result of the progress of scientific study and experiment. The materialistic and mechanistic views of the last century, encouraged by the biological discoveries of Darwin, are being displaced by speculation which tends at times even to mysticism.

Perhaps the Great War has done more to bring psychology into the lime-light than anything else. It was disconcerting for those who considered that illness was due to some organic cause to find that men could be paralysed, blind, deaf and dumb through purely mental processes. Resultant upon this is the present monistic outlook to illness, namely, that there is an interaction between mind and body and the one cannot be divorced from the other. It is not an exaggeration to say that the mind plays a part in all disease and may start it. Mental illness affords a fertile soil in which the seeds of organic disease can germinate. Thus fear, worry, anxiety, may initiate or stimulate the breakdown in function of some vital organ in our bodies.

RUSH OF MODERN LIFE

With the maddening rush of modern life and its concomitant strain we have not far to look for instances of psychological illness. This year at the annual meeting of the British Association two members of the medical profession, Lord Horder, Physician to H.M. The King, and Dr. Gillespie of Guy's Hospital, London, replied to the question: "What are the causes of nerve strain?" The former stressed external conditions as causal whereas the latter emphasised the importance of personal unhappiness and conflict within the mind.

Attempts are being made every day to produce for the lay public an exposition of one or other of the sciences in a popular form. The subject matter is presented in as palatable and digestible a way as possible. In particular does this apply to psychology. Complexes, perversion or repression are words which are now included in the vocabularies of all and sundry. But more especially is the badinage of the cocktail party centred round them; and the "dilemma" of the brighter set based upon them. However, the discerning few do realise the importance and position of psychology in our daily communal and individual problems.

The eminent London magistrate, Mr. Claude Mullins, is a reformer endowed with perspicacity. But like all reformers he is having an uphill fight. In the court he has found that the problem of juvenile and adolescent delinquency and the problem of matrimonial discord are problems of frequent occurrence. Now these two subjects are closely associated. As he says, the best time for dealing with delinquency is surely nine months before delinquents are born. These matters are not purely issues of law and evidence. The causes of matrimonial discord are manifold, but the biggest reasons by far have a "psychological background" and are due to sexual ignorance and disagreement. Cases in which marital maladjustment is a prominent factor are dealt with in the privacy of Mr. Mullins's office and not in the austere atmosphere of the open court. The couple concerned talk over their difficulties with him, if necessary, he enlists the aid of a priest or doctor. Now I would go further in this experiment and suggest that every town should have a "consultant panel" consisting of a priest, magistrate, school teacher and doctor, with one, if not more, of these individuals being a woman. I feel sure that such committees would contribute not only to individual but also to national happiness.

DOYEN OF PSYCHOLOGICAL WORLD

Institutes for psychological research are being established the world over and although it is invidious to mention names, yet Freud, Jung, Adler, Myers, McDougall are a few of the outstanding leaders. Each has his own method of approach to a particular subject, each belongs to a special school of thought. Freud is the "doyen" of the psychological world and is the protagonist of deep psycho-analysis as a form of treatment.

Personally, for what one may call rough-and-ready psychology I have no hesitation in recommending the doctrine of Adler. He emphasises the importance of the individual and his or her relations to (1) interhuman relations (the attitude towards fellow men, friends); (2) work (occupation or profession in the case of an adult—school in the case of a child); (3) sex (love and marriage). Of his many books which have been translated into English, "The Science of Living" and "What Life should mean to you" help one to appreciate the real meaning and value of Individual Psychology. "Co-operation is the meaning of life," says Adler. Individual Psychology is not merely a therapeutic nostrum for the nervous and mental disorders of this age. It does more; it embodies a philosophy of life.

HOLISM

The omniscient, J. C. Smuts, at one time Prime Minister of South Africa, made "Holism" the title of his presidential address to the British Association some years ago. In this book "Holism and Evolution" will be found the following passage:—

"A poem or a picture is praised because it is a 'whole,' because it is not a mere artificial construction, but an organic whole in which all the parts appear in a subtle, indefinable way to subserve, and contribute to and carry out the main purpose or idea. 'Wholes' are basic to the character of the universe, and Holism, as the operative factor in the evolution of wholes, is the ultimate principle of the universe. And Holism is the driving force behind progress."

There is much in common between the views of Smuts and

GOVERNMENT PETITIONED

Restaurants Ask For Reduction In Licences

The owners of Chinese restaurants in Hong Kong have written to the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, asking that organisation to approach the Government on their behalf for a reduction of their licence fees, in view of the business depression.

It is stated that in the case of some of the larger establishments these fees amount to $3,000 a year. Following consideration of the matter, the Chamber has decided that a representative will call upon the Hon. the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, carrying a petition in the sense requested.

The To To Sin Koon, one of the oldest and best-known restaurants in the Colony, enjoying the patronage of foreign residents, has lately had to close down, owing to the prevailing difficult business conditions.

STREET SALE OF FLOWERS

Confucian Society Big Drive

FUNDS FOR FREE SCHOOLS

The substantial sum of nearly $3,000 in aid of the 17 free vernacular schools under the Hong Kong Confucian Society, was the total collected on Saturday from the street sale of flowers.

At the conclusion, committee members of the Society gave a dinner, held at the Kam Loong Restaurant, in honour of all those who participated in the sale.

Miss Lau King-ting collected the highest amount of $121.50.

Miss Luen Shing-ting turned in the sum of $34.19.

The annual meeting of the members of the Hong Kong Society for the Protection of Children, will be held at the Helena May Institute at 5.30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 17.

those of Adler. The latter is the founder of Individual Psychology which recognises the mind and body of the individual as a "whole." The bearing of Holism on the problem of disease should now appear obvious. Nature's tendency is towards "wholeness" (healing) but she and Man make mistakes which result in disease or unwholeness. The logical sequence upon this should be the exercise by us all of holistic vision or "awareness."

MENTAL ILL-HEALTH

At the present time more than at any other can psychology help us, one and all. Disillusion, envy, suspicion and the mania of acute nationalism, have gripped the nations. The mental ill-health of statesmen and the mobilisation of the unconscious are important contributory factors to the present disharmony between nations. Political leaders in one hand hold an olive branch and in the other a pistol. Once more "the lights in Europe are going out." The State, the race, the "isms" are the order of the day. It can be rightly said that moral must precede material disarmament. Politics, and even the ecclesiastics, seem unable to stem the tide which is fast carrying us to our own destruction. "Mass-neurosis" and "fear-reaction" are now national ailments and with these there is the inability of men to face each other frankly and to discuss the problems of their anxieties, their root causes and the way to deal with them.

Evasion is the dominant symptom in the neurotic individual and this is pandemic to-day. The neurotic settles his or her problems in this manner. In the same way this method seems to be the most popular amongst national leaders for dealing with disagreeable situations.

In conclusion, you must learn to differentiate those who are unhappy from illness and those who are ill from unhappiness. May I commend to each one of you, man and woman firstly, that well-known Latin proverb "Mens sana in corpore sano" and, secondly, two words "Know thyself."

BAL MASQUE A SUCCESS

Thanks Expressed

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul is gratified at being able to present the following accounts of the Bal Masque recently held at the Gloucester Hotel.

The Society first of all wishes to tender their most grateful thanks to Mrs. Beatrice Church and the Directors and Staff of the Advertising and Publicity Bureau, Ltd., who gave so freely of their valuable time. Mrs. Beatrice Church's well-known organising ability, backed by the unique experience of the Advertising and Publicity Bureau, Ltd., was a sure guarantee of the success of the Bal Masque.

The Society also wishes to thank most gratefully all who volunteered so readily to assist Mrs. Beatrice Church. Particularly, thanks are due to the Judges for their painstaking care in the difficult task of adjudging the prizes for costumes; to Mrs. S. H. Dodwell for so graciously giving away the prizes to the winners; to the ladies who so kindly volunteered to act as Dance Hostesses; to the ladies who sold tickets and programmes; to the "Hong Kong Daily Press," "China Mail," and "Sunday Herald" who devoted space in their papers to publicity and advertising for the Bal without any charges; to the Gloucester Hotel who gave their space in the "South China Morning Post" and "Telegraph" to the same purpose, and who provided the printing of the tickets; to the "South China Morning Post" and "Telegraph," who accepted advertising at a reduced price; to Messrs. STREET SLEEPERS IN KOWLOON

St. Francis Home To Re-Open

HOPE TO EXTEND ACCOMMODATION

Plans have been made for the re-opening of St. Francis Home for street sleepers, which did such excellent work in Kowloon last winter. This home, which was directed by the members of the Third Order of St. Francis (Catholic laymen), was run on different lines to most of the shelters for street sleepers, for instead of aiming at giving a place to sleep to as large a number as possible, it sought to give good accommodation to a limited number but to establish personal contact with all who come.

FACILITIES APPRECIATED

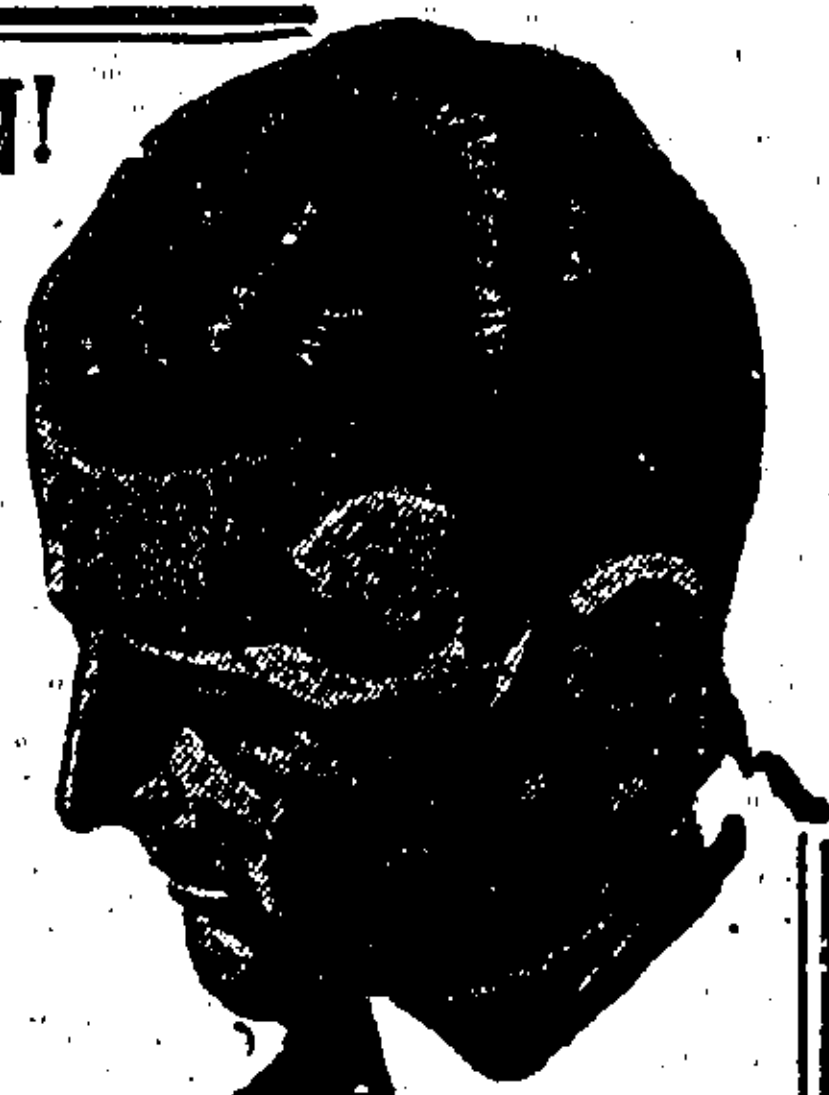

From the beginning the facilities afforded by the Home were greatly appreciated by the destitute men who came to it, and after a time it became more like a hostel than a shelter as, for the most part, the same men came regularly. Each night some of the members of the Third Order attended the Home, one of them in turn sleeping there, and after a short time they became very friendly with the men and used to talk with them for a long time every evening. The spontaneous gifts of some who heard of the work made it possible for the home to supply the men also with some food and drink, and on special occasions it was possible to give them a good meal.

GENEROUS HELP

The generous help which was given by the people attending the various Catholic Churches in Hong Kong provided the necessary funds for the maintenance of the Home, and the result of the appeal made to them for this purpose was so satisfactory that it is hoped to extend the work this year so that a greater number of men can be accommodated. For this purpose new and more extensive premises will be required, and it is thought that some well-wisher may be able to supply them. If there is any property owner who has vacant premises that can be used for the purpose, or could be adapted to make them suitable, he will confer a very great benefit on the poorest of Hong Kong poor if he puts it at the disposal of the members of

SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION

In order to further their activities, the Royal Artillery Association, Hong Kong Branch, held their first dance at the Hotel Cecil, which was well attended by over 200 couples.

The dance music was supplied by the Royal Ulster Rifles, by kind permission of Major H. McI. Morrison and officers.

The hall was artistically decorated with balloons and coloured streamers, and the Royal Artillery crest bearing the motto "Ubique" was hung over the doorway at the entrance of the Hotel.

Amongst those present were Major J. B. Dreamann, M.C., Capt. J. Hooper, Capt. P. B. Whitehead, Lt. and Mrs. F. Peck, M.B.E., D.O.M., Lt. and Mrs. A. Hazel, M.B.E., Lt. C. C. Garthwaite, and Lt. Qtr-Master M. O'Grady.

The duties of Masters of Ceremonies were ably carried out by Messrs. Trentham and Percival.

LAST LINER TO SAIL

SOVIET SUSPICION OF FOREIGNERS

Warsaw, Nov. 13.
With reference to the numerous arrests of foreigners, which have recently been made in Moscow, it is reported that a large number of foreigners had already been subjected to police supervision for weeks before. Many foreigners have been constantly followed by the secret police, and often suddenly required to produce papers, and then taken to the police station in order that these papers, mostly identification papers, could be scrutinised. Even children were halted in the streets, and subjected to political questions. All arrests were preceded by thorough searches at the person's dwellings. All these happenings have produced a feeling of utter insecurity in the foreign colony in Moscow, who regard themselves entirely at the mercy of the Soviet authorities. Transocean News Service.

ITALIAN ATTITUDE

Rome, Nov. 13.
Regarding the rumours current in the international press ever since Ambassador Grandi's last attack on Soviet Russia, that Italy would withdraw from the Non-Intervention Committee, it is stated officially that Italy will not take any decision before the answer to her accusations, from Moscow is in hand, and not before the Committee itself has decided. Transocean News Service.

SIEGE OF MADRID

Paris, Nov. 13.
Unless unforeseen circumstances occur, the Nationalist troops will perhaps have to prepare for a siege of Madrid, declared General Aguirre, of the Nationalist troops. He added that General Franco's original plan to take the capital in one great assault had to be modified on account of the stubborn resistance of the inhabitants. Transocean News Service.

BRITAIN AND JAPAN

Ambassador
On Mutual Understanding

Sir Francis Lindley presided at a dinner of the Japan Society, held in honour of the Japanese Ambassador (Mr. Saigoro Yosida) and Mme. Yoshida at Claridge's recently, states "The Times." Proposing the toast of "The Ambassador," who is president of the society, Sir Francis Lindley said he considered that British interests, when regarded from the broadest point of view, were best served, and must be served by friendship between Japan and this country. He knew there was competition in the commercial field, and that a section of public opinion regarded Japanese excursions on the mainland with a disapproving eye, but nevertheless he regarded it as of the greatest importance that Great Britain and Japan should remain on friendly terms, and arrive at a compromise to solve the problems of the Far East and of the world in general. The Ambassador, in reply, said that in the last 15 years there had been many changes, but the cordial friendship between Great Britain and Japan remained unchanged. They were all looking forward to welcoming Prince and Princess Chichibu to the Coronation next year in the confident expectation that their visit would make still stronger the bonds between the two reigning families. The secret of modern diplomacy was mutual understanding. Great Britain and Japan had each their own needs and difficulties and their respective interests to protect. In the present topsy-turvy condition of world economics the interests of the two countries might at times appear to conflict, but he believed there was no problem which could not be settled if tackled with good will and sympathy. There was no reason why the two peoples should not continue to be as good friends in business as they were in their social and intellectual relations. They must mutually endeavour to remove those obstacles which stood in the way of friendship, and above all to cultivate more generous criticisms of each other. The toast of "The Japan Society" was proposed by Lord Cromer. Viscount Hiasakira Kano, responding, said there was no real reason why Great Britain and Japan could not reach an adjustment of commercial relations. What was needed was co-operation, not competition. The society must work for a more practical friendship between the representatives of both countries, and endeavour to bring the business men and industrialists together.

A GOLFING FILM

A film of the final rounds of the American Amateur Golf Championship which was shown privately in Glasgow recently to an audience which included Jack McLean, the lone finalist, was clear proof that if the Scottish golfer had won his success would have been welcomed, even by an American crowd, states the "Glasgow Herald." Any brilliant strokes which he played were warmly applauded, particularly the putt which he holed on the last green to give him a lunch-lead of two holes. And if the crowd were full-throated in their appreciation of the putt which Fischer holed on the same green in the afternoon to keep the game alive, their

"HIS BROTHER'S WIFE"

Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor form the screen's newest romantic team in "His Brother's Wife," which is showing at the King's theatre to-day.

Taylor, regarded as the most sensational box-office draw since Clark Gable first leaped to fame, comes into his newest leading role following such successes as "Private Number," "Small Town Girl," and "Magnificent Obsession."

W. S. Van Dyke, the man who made such outstanding pictures as "San Francisco," "Rose Marie," and "Naughty Marietta," directed "His Brother's Wife."

The new picture also features Jean Hersholt who has become tremendously popular as the result of starring roles in "The Country Doctor" and "Sins of Men."

Also in the cast are Joseph Calleia, the screen's leading "villain," John Eldredge, Samuel S. Hinds and Phyllis Clare.

"His Brother's Wife" tells of a young scientist about to embark on his first scientific expedition, who meets Miss Stanwyck in a gay gambling casino. For ten days their romance progresses and then the hero accompanies Hersholt into the jungle to trace the cause and find a cure for fatal spotted fever. Misunderstandings arise with complicated results.

The story has been played in two extremely interesting yet contrasting settings—the gay, happy night life of New York and the sordid and suffocating heat of a dense South American jungle.

In addition to the main attraction, a splendid news-reel is shown depicting gruesome scenes in the Spanish revolution, a Pete Smith specialty wherein he describes polo in humorous vein, and an entertaining colour cartoon which is original to say the very least.

"MARY OF SCOTLAND"

A vivid chapter of historic drama depicting the colourful and tempestuous career of Mary Stuart is brought to the screen with lavish and pungent realism in "Mary of Scotland," co-starring Katharine Hepburn and Fredric March, at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

The hectic life of this naive young girl, Mary Stuart, who suddenly finds herself transplanted from the luxurious warmth of the French court into turbulent Scotland, its warring factions, its ugly poverty, its religious strife, its unscrupulous intrigue, has lent itself admirably to spectacular reproduction on the screen.

Mary Stuart's conflict with the treacherous Scottish lords; her marriage to her cousin, Lord Darnley, played by the able Douglas Walton, the murder of her secretary David Rizzio (John Carradine); Mary's romance with, and marriage to Bothwell; her flight to England, her long feud with Elizabeth and finally her execution; are high lights of this thrilling crammed picture.

John Ford as director has brought the "Barbaric favour of 16th century Scotland" convincingly to the screen.

attitude earlier in the day was sufficient indication that the Scot was admired alike in moments of success and adversity.

LADIES' HOCKEY

Caer Clark Cup Matches

CHAMPIONS DEFEAT RECREIO

The Hong Kong Ladies beat St. Andrew's Ladies in a Caer Clark Cup hockey match by two clear goals on the United Services Recreation Club ground on Saturday.

St. Andrew's were unlucky. The forwards were to blame, for opportunities for them to score were by no means few.

The game was in progress about two minutes after the changeover when Miss P. Gittins went through on her own, and drawing Miss J. Smalley out of the goal, failed to score, for she only had to tap the ball into the net.

The second goal for the Hong Kong Ladies came from Mrs. Harrop, who scored with a rising shot.

After five minutes when the goals were scored, the Saints attacked with a vengeance and only the brilliant work of Miss E. Grave and Miss J. Smalley kept them from scoring.

H.K. Ladies:—Miss J. Smalley; Miss E. Grey, Miss R. Smalley; Miss J. Dalziel, Miss B. Pope, Miss K. Glover; Mrs. P. M. Harrop, Miss F. Marsh, Miss M. Smalley, Mrs. H. Prophet, and Miss C. Ferguson.

St. Andrew's Ladies:—Mrs. Rose; Miss G. White, Miss R. Stephenson; Miss J. Humphreys, Miss J. Wong, Miss L. Jorge, Miss F. Wong, Miss M. Roza, Miss P. Gittins, Miss S. West and Miss J. Booker.

The Central British Association Ladies, champions, beat Recreio Ladies by two goals to nil in the Caer Clark Cup League on Saturday at King's Park.

The outstanding player, was the C.B.A.'s centre-half, Miss O. Peters who certainly overwhelmed the spectators by her good play.

Mrs. Burton, at centre-forward did not strike her best form.

The winners scored in the first half through Miss R. Blackmore and Miss F. Best added the other in the second.

The Recreio backs Miss O. Botelho and Miss C. Osmund and Mrs. L. Silva, left half, played well.

C.B.A. Ladies:—Miss N. Adam; Miss P. Woolley and Miss P. Whitely; Miss I. Woolley, Miss O. Peters and Miss J. Lephard; Miss S. Best, Miss R. Blackmore, Mrs. Burton, Miss B. Bone and Miss D. Hunt.

Recreio Ladies:—Miss Z. Barros; Miss O. Botelho and Miss C. Osmund; Mrs. L. Silva, Miss F. Xavier and Miss M. Alves; Miss N. Goncalves, Miss A. Alves, Miss C. Silva, Miss M. Roza and Miss B. Remedios.

The Hong Kong Ladies recorded their first win when they beat the Central British School "B" team on Saturday at the Valley by the only goal scored in a Brawn Cup match.

Miss M. D. Weir, at inside-right, netted the goal for the winners during the first half.

After leading by 2-0 in the first half, the Royal Ulster Rifle's Ladies proved too good for the "B" Ladies on Saturday, and won by four goals to one.

The "Y" ladies played well individually, but they lacked combination.

The Royal Welch Fusilier Ladies beat the Central British Association by three clear goals at Sham-shuipo on Saturday.

Mrs. Marvin and Mrs. Pepper were seen in many nice movements and the former's two goals were scored in the first half. The last goal was scored by Mrs. Hill.

"TROUBLE FOR TWO"

To the host of those who turn to Robert Louis Stevenson for preferred reading is added an army of film patrons. This became pronounced last night at the Majestic Theatre, where Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Trouble For Two," co-starring Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, opened an engagement for to-days.

The picture is based on the story, "The Suicide Club," by Stevenson, the screen adaptation being written by Manuel Seff and E. A. Paratore, Jr.

A distinguished supporting cast includes Frank Morgan, who recently won honours in M-G-M's musical, sensation, "The Great Ziegfeld," Reginald Owen, Louis Hayward, David Holt, Virginia Weidler, E. E. Clive, Walter Kingsford and others.

The new musical which Rudy Vallee is to make for Warner Brothers has been titled "Mr. Melody."

ZIMMERMAN PROPERTY CASE

Husband's Claim Against Wife For $60,000

Mr. Morris Zimmerman, of No. 10 Route Pottery, brought a claim for $261,751 against Mrs. Freda Zimmerman in the Second Special District Court on November 6, states the "North China Daily News." The plaintiff asked the court to order his wife to pay first of all $60,000, saying he reserved the right to claim the amount. Decision will be given later.

Both Mr. Morris and Mrs. Freda Zimmerman were not in court yesterday, being represented by lawyers who were Messrs. Chang Tsing-ying, Chu Kuo-yong, and Yakovlev for the plaintiff, and Dr. F. Wilhelm, and Mr. Hsu Sze-hao for the defendant.

On behalf of his client, Mr. Chang Tsing-ying stated that Mrs. Freda Zimmerman was first married to the late Mr. Joseph who, when he died several years ago, left property valued at about $2,438,279 which was inherited by two persons, namely, the deceased's wife who obtained one-fourth amounting to about $852,545, and the daughter who obtained three-fourths. It was provided, however, that the interest on the portion inherited by the daughter should be shared equally by the daughter and wife. Calculations on basis of the above figures showed that his client, Mr. Morris Zimmerman, was entitled to $261,751, as his client was in urgent need of money to defray house expenses, the court was asked to order Mrs. Freda Zimmerman to pay him first of all $60,000, Mr. Chang stated.

Mr. Hsu Sze-hao, for the wife, asked the court to dismiss the plaintiff's claim on the ground that in another case concerning the management of the wife's property, it had been decided already that the property involved was the wife's special and privileged property. Mr. Hsu also asked that evidence be produced by Mr. Zimmerman regarding the value of his wife's property as mentioned by his lawyer.

Gladette Colbert is to have the leading woman's part in "I, James Lewis," a story of exploration. Cary Grant will be her leading man.

"Bing Crosby's brother, Bob, has been offered a job by Paramount. He is at the moment touring America with his dance orchestra."

Fritz Lang has begun work on "You Only Live Once" for Warner Wanger. Sylvia Sydney and Henry Fonda are co-starring.

ANCIENT GREEK RELICS

The Duke of Kent recently, at the Royal Academy, inaugurated the exhibition of British Archaeological Discoveries in Greece and Crete, organized by the British School of Archaeology at Athens.

The School, said the Duke, was the centre of all the research by British scholars and archaeologists into the ancient history and buildings of Greece and Crete.

But, although the School had been extremely fortunate in its benefactors in the past, its existence depended entirely on the generous support of the learned circles in this country, unlike schools of other nations, which were mostly financed by their Government.

He welcomed the presence of the Greek Minister, and thanked his Government for their generous support.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGES

Old Employee
Ordered To Refund Money

FERRY COMPANY'S LOSSES

Li Pak appeared on remand on Saturday before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on three charges of embezzlement from the Hong Kong and New Territories Ferry Company, Ltd.

Mr. Peter H. Sin appeared for the complainant, Li Chung Po, manager of the company. Mr. Sin said that the company operated launches from Hong Kong to Chung Chau and that defendant had been a compradore of the firm for seven years. He rendered daily accounts of the revenue of the company, but on October 15, he presented a statement that was short by $10 of the real account. Similar discrepancies occurred on October 22 and October 24, for $10 and $5, respectively.

The errors were discovered by the manager on well-founded suspicions. He demanded to check over the receipt counter-rolls and found the false entries. Defendant, when asked if he had anything to say, replied that he had nothing to say.

Mr. Schofield remarked he thought it possible that defendant could easily refund his losses to the company.

Mr. Sin informed his Worship that the offense was a systematic fraud perpetrated by defendant over a period of time.

Mr. Schofield ordered the sum of $50 to be refunded to the company, and sentenced defendant to one month on each of the three charges.

FORGERY OF DOCUMENT

Carpenter Bound
Over

A 23-year old carpenter, Ng Nang, of Wanchai, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Saturday, for the forgery of a public document, for which offense he was bound over.

Inspector A. E. Carey prosecuted.

On November 9, defendant was riding with Tse Fuk in a truck, of which the latter was the driver. Tse tendered the forged document, which was a sand issue note issued by the Public Works Department, and which showed an excess of load. This was an apparent effort to defraud or deceive the contractor's of a small sum of money.

Tse pleaded not guilty to the charge of uttering the note as he had had no knowledge that it was forged. He was discharged from the court when Inspector Carey accepted his plea.

Inspector Carey informed his Worship that it was a serious offence as the defendant had altered a Government document with intent to defraud.

MONEY THEFT

Li Chun, 42, a shop feld was brought before Mr. Q. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday charged with larceny of $83, from No. 450 Shanghai Street, ground floor on November 13.

Detective Sgt. Headridge said that the defendant stole the money which was locked in a drawer. The theft was thought to have taken place in the evening. Sentence of three months imprisonment was imposed.

JUMBLE SALE

Under the auspices of the Diocesan Old Girls' Association and the Diocesan Girls' School a very successful jumble sale was held on Saturday at the St. Andrew's Church Hall.

Approximately $100 was realised. It is understood, and the few remaining articles of clothing, etc., which were unsold, will be presented to the Hong Kong Benevolent Society.

The following ladies helped with the sale: Mrs. A. E. P. Guest, Mrs. E. C. Fincher, Mrs. S. Jex, Mrs. Fenner, and the Misses M. Churn, R. Grose, M. Grose, Joyce Anderson, Nora Zimmermann and Ethel Banker.

TYPEWRITER THEFT SEQUEL

Newly Married Man
Sentenced

PLEADS GUILTY TO RECEIVING

Following the arrest of Lewis White, a Chinese of Honolulu, he was charged at the Central Magistracy on Saturday before Mr. K. Keen, for the larceny of an Underwood portable typewriter, and for receiving and pawning the typewriter illegally.

Mr. F. X. D'Almada, Jr., appeared for the defendant while Det. Sgt. C. Byron represented the prosecution.

According to the prosecution, on October 24, the premises of the Christian Science Reading Room, located on the sixth floor of the Bank of East Asia Building was broken into, and the typewriter and a money box was filched.

Det. Sgt. Byron, in searching around the different pawnshops discovered the typewriter at the Tung Yuen Pawn Shop, at 68, Johnston Road.

Defendant returned on November 10 to pawn some clothing, and he was detained by the manager of the shop. Det. Sgt. Byron was called, and defendant admitted to pawning the typewriter for $30.

Mr. D'Almada told his Worship that he was instructed to plead guilty to the two charges of receiving and pawning, but not for the larceny.

He added that the defendant did not know that the article had been stolen. Defendant had just been married, and his Worship was asked to take a lenient view of the case in view of the youthfulness of the accused.

The typewriter was valued at $100 in local currency. Mr. G. Stanley Lovett, the complainant who was present in court, testified to ownership.

Det. Sgt. Byron told the court that defendant represented himself as a correspondent of the "New York Times," but no verification of that could be made.

Mr. Keen ordered that the sum of $30 be repaid for the redemption of the typewriter, failing which accused was sentenced to one month in gaol. Sentence of two months imprisonment was also imposed for the offence of receiving stolen property.

ACTION AGAINST MUNICIPALITY

Sequel To Woman's Accident In French Concession

An interesting judgment regarding the responsibility of the French municipality in regard to the maintenance of a traffic island in the French Concession which involved an accident for which Mrs. O. Klinskikh sued the Municipality, was given by the French Court on November 7, states the "North China Daily News."

The plaintiff suffered a broken leg while stepping from a tram island at the corner of Rue Du Consular and the French Bund last July when she tripped over an iron hook used to clamp the island to the ground.

M. Paul Fremet, representing Mrs. Klinskikh, contended that the French Municipality was responsible for failure to keep in good condition the public island erected for the safety of passengers, and this contention was sustained by the Court.

The Court pointed out that the negligence of the P.W.D. was obvious because the island, made of wood, had gradually sunk leaving the hook overhanging and the Court was of the opinion that the sinking had taken a long time and there was ample time for the Municipality to make necessary improvements. However, the Court also found that the plaintiff should have been more careful when stepping out of the car, as it is usual to look down when alighting.

In these circumstances, the Court assessed the responsibility on the following ratio: three-quarters to the French Municipality and one quarter for the plaintiff. The amount of damages will be fixed as soon as Mrs. Klinskikh has fully recovered and will be based on the judgment.

BAG SNATCHING AGAIN

European Woman
Victimised

Leung Tai Sing, 38, unemployed was charged before Mr. Q. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday for theft of a hand bag, from Mrs. Stevens in Nathan Road.

Inspector Shannon said that on November 13 at 3.30 p.m., the complainant, who resides at No. 532 Nathan Road, second floor, was standing in Nathan Road when the defendant snatched her bag and ran away. Mr. J. Mason and Mr. E. Kay, who witnessed the incident gave chase and arrested, accused.

The defendant who had one previous conviction for larceny, was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

Mr. Macfadyen congratulated the two gentlemen for their prompt action.

CORONATION RITUAL

Has A Biblical Origin

Many of the duties and ceremonies associated with King Edward's Coronation Day date from the days of bold knights, fiery chargers and tournaments, states "The Evening Standard."

The two predominant units of the ceremonial political and feudal, are joined in the person of the King.

The political unit has two aspects, civil and ecclesiastical, and provide that the consent of the people is imperative before the King can be crowned.

When the consent for the Coronation has been obtained, it is stipulated that the King be crowned with the most elaborate pomp and solemnities that religion can provide.

It is under the terms of the constitution of the country that the feudal observances persist. As Chief Lord, the King requires the renewal of the ancient oaths of allegiance and service tenure of dignities and possessions held through him involves.

The Coronation itself is essentially religious in motive. It was consequent on the spread of Christianity that the nations of Europe learned to encircle the brow of their chosen king with a diadem; present him with a sceptre of power; sanctify him with the holy unction, and confirm his supreme authority by the The ceremonial and ritual have undergone no revolutionary change since Biblical times.

A common source is apparent so far as the ceremonies of coronation and unction are concerned.

They were practised in Judea. The anointing of kings has been observed from earliest times, and the vestments worn by English Kings and Queens are designed to conform to the ritual of anointing.

CROWNS

King Henry III, eager to know precisely what an uplifting effect unction had on a royal person, asked the Bishop of Lincoln for enlightenment.

The Bishop replied: "As in baptism all former sins are washed away; so also by this unction."

France claims that unction was first used in Europe in the crowning of her kings.

It is believed that Egbert of Mercia was the first English king to be anointed—in 785. The distinction of being the first Scottish king to be anointed is credited to Edgar who reigned from 1067.

Constantine the Great set the example in the use of crowns at coronations. It was an example which appealed greatly to the other European kings, who were quick to imitate it.

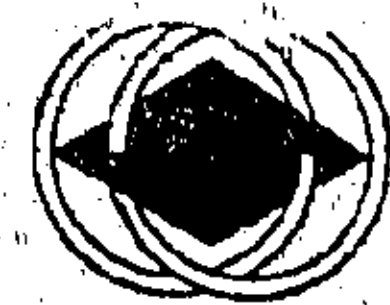

The Coronation is also a ceremony of "national election," in the sense that the King is the choice of his people as sovereign.

FEUDAL BOND

King Edward's duty towards his people has its origin in a feudal bond by which he, as Liege Lord is bound to maintain and defend his people in return for service and obedience.

His duties are stipulated in the Oath which he is called upon to take. They consist of his undertaking to:

Govern the people of the United Kingdom; and the Dominions

FRANCE-BELGIAN FRONTIER

Fortifications To

MINISTER'S TOUR OF AREA

M. Daladier, Defence Minister, who inspected the fortifications of the Franco-Belgian frontier, recently stated that he intended to reinforce them.

Speaking at Valenciennes, he declared, "I have just made a trip along the frontier district between Charleville and Valenciennes, and I have gained a highly satisfactory impression of the results achieved in the building of the fortified works."

"I intend to perfect these works by powerful means. France has every reason to have confidence in the means of defence at her disposal."

M. Daladier added that he was considering, in particular, the best method of defending the vast industrial region embraced by Lille, Roubaix and Tourcoing. He stated that he already had the necessary credits to carry out these defence works.

The Franco-Belgian frontier district between Valenciennes and the sea has hitherto remained practically unfortified. The General Staffs of the two countries had previously planned the defence of Lille from Ghent, in Belgium, which was to be fortified for this purpose.

Since King Leopold's declaration of neutrality it is believed, however, that the French General Staff has been reconsidering the defence of the area.

GOERING ON COLONIES

Comparison With Britain

"STOLEN FROM US"

General Goering spoke on Herr Hitler's four-year plan of self-sufficiency in Berlin recently, states "The Manchester Guardian." But the speech was not confined to that, for as an introduction to the reasons for a self-sufficiency programme General Goering made bitter complaints of the lack of German colonies ("stolen from us after an unfortunate war") and the inability to buy materials ("our gold" having been "stolen by reparations").

He suggested that, had Germany had only "a small portion of such colonial possessions" as had England there would be no shortage of food.

FOOD SHORTAGE

Though blaming the "unreasonableness of other nations," for this shortage, which he admitted was now at its worst, he sought in some ways to make a virtue of it. To bear it was to prove oneself a worthy German. Though one might have to eat less meat, one could eat more fish, which was better for you. Even to eat less fat, which was particularly scarce, was no great loss because fat, he said, "makes the stomach greedy."

In this as in all other things they should follow the example of Herr Hitler, who ate no butter or meat. "I myself," he added, "eat less fat now and I have lost 20lb."

In six months, General Goering promised, the position would have improved "mightily" and the improvement would continue. To help this improvement Herr Hitler had appointed a new price commissioner with powers to end the "evil of hoarding," which was an offence against the State.

COLONY'S FINANCES

The financial statement for the month of August shows that revenue during that period amounted to $2,037,419.75 and expenditure to $2,421,427.45. Taking into consideration the excess of assets over liabilities on July 31 of $12,499,283.31, the favourable balance in hand at the end of August was $12,075,208.61.

AVIATION SERVICE AT CATHEDRAL

Ensign And Imperial Airways Flags Presented

ANNIVERSARY OF DORADO'S FIRST ARRIVAL HERE

The Aviation Service held in St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning was most impressive and was largely attended.

The British Civil Aviation ensign and the Imperial Airways house flag were presented to the Cathedral in the course of the service for safe custody.

Among those present were H.E. the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, accompanied by Lady Caldecott, H.E. the General Officer Commanding, Major-General A. W. Bartholomew, and Mrs. Bartholomew, Squadron Leader J. Dalzell, Officer Commanding R.A.F. Group Capt. Kaebbe, Senior Air Force officer, H.M.S. Hermes, Wing Commander A. G. and Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. J. H. Lock, wife of Capt. Lock, pilot of the R.M.A. Dorado, Mr. A. R. J. Moss, Superintendent of the Civil Aerodrome, Mr. J. F. Wright, Jun., O. C. Hong Kong Volunteer Air Arm, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Peers.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the first visit paid to Hong Kong by the Imperial Airways plane Dorado.

At the service the Civil Aviation Ensign was carried by Flight-Lieut. P. H. Smith and the Imperial Airways flag by Mr. M. H. Curtis. The flag bearers were received at the west door by the Cathedral Trustees of the Church of England, the Vice-Chairman of the Cathedral Church Council (Mr. H. Owen Hughes) and the Chaplain-in-Charge (Rev. H. W. Baines).

As the procession entered the Cathedral the congregation sang psalm 122 after which followed the order of morning prayer so far as the third collect for grace.

FLAGS PRESENTED.
The first Lesson, taken from Isaiah, Chapter 40, was read by Mr. Curtis and the second Lesson from St. Luke, Chapter 11, by Mr. S. R. Kerr.

After the third collect the Cathedral Councillors Messrs. P. E. Baskett and Kerr led the two flag bearers to the sanctuary where the flags were presented with the words:

"I pray you to offer at the altar of our Cathedral Church this flag which I now deliver into your hands for safe custody within these walls."

After receiving the flags and placing them on the altar, the Rev. Mr. Baines said:—
In the Name of God we dedicate these gifts to this Cathedral in remembrance of all who, in the service of their fellow men pursue their business in the highways of the air.

Then followed the prayer:—
Accept O Lord we beseech Thee these emblems of service and enterprise. Be pleased to receive into Thy protection now and always those who carry them.

Immediately a peal of bells rang out from the Cathedral tower.

The singing of the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy" was followed by prayers.

THE SERMON

After the hymn, "Lord, in this Holy House to Thee" (written by Canon Crum for the Aviation Service), the Rev. H. W. Baines delivered an inspiring sermon.

The preacher said:—
Saturday, June 20 of this year, was a memorable day in Canterbury Cathedral, the mother church of English Christianity; for the first time in history remembrance was made of all whose element is the discharge of their duties is the air. And this is a memorable day in Hong Kong; when, on the first anniversary of the arrival of the regular weekly service of Imperial Airways and within a fortnight of the coming of the first regular C.N.A.C. aeroplane, gifts have been accepted and dedicated in the mother church of our Communion in the Far East which will keep in the minds of those who behold them, continually, every aviator who travels in the highways of the air or who protects those highways.

ENSIGNS OF AVIATION

Addressing a concourse of 1,950 people who filled to its utmost capacity the Nave of Canterbury Cathedral, the Archbishop of Canterbury said, "It is good to think that by this service and by the abiding presence of these ensigns of aviation this church, keeps these, her dauntless children, in her remembrance." Our purpose to-day is the same. We are met to commend to the protection of Almighty God the workmen of the air; to commend the courage and resource of the men, and indeed, the women, who have been pioneers in this new adventure of the human spirit. The airman would be the last to labour the risks that attend his journeys. It is enough for us to say that we do not and shall not forget them. In a letter which I received describing the Canterbury service the following words were written, "The Civil Air Ensign, was borne up the Cathedral by Captain A. S. Wilcoxon, a well known pilot of the sea-plane that crashed in the Eastern Seas a month or so ago. Happily, I believe he was not greatly injured."

RESOURCEFULNESS AND COURAGE

But in commencing to God those whose services have earned the gratitude of every civilian in this outpost ten thousand miles, now barely ten days, from home, we have in mind not only the dangers which have stimulated their courage and evoked their resourcefulness, but also the perilous neutrality into which every great new invention of science is born. In the hands of good men it will be, as it is already, a boon to mankind linking remotely separated friends and relations, carrying sick men to hospital and doctors to patients, conveying messengers of the Gospel with greater safety and rapidity than their fathers dreamed of; but in the hands of men of ill will an instrument no longer of human solidarity but of hatred.

Let me quote from a book called "In the shadow of to-morrow" by the Dutch writer Huijzinga, "The gods of our time, mechanism and organisation, have brought life and death. They have wired up the whole world, established contact throughout, created everywhere the possibility of co-operation, concentration of strength and mutual understanding." At the same time they have trapped the spirit, fettered it, stifled it."

THE SUPREME TEST

The supreme test of our generation which has invented and originated so much that is marvellous, is whether it can pass on to its children a civilisation immeasurably enriched in possibilities of human co-operation or doomed to mutual destruction. This is the Armageddon of the spirit. The scientific invention may be neutral. The Christian spirit cannot be. The Christian can blind himself by no non-intervention pact in this crisis. Without the regenerating power of the Spirit of Christ no planning and no conferences can put right what is amiss. And therefore it is that we commend the men of the air, all who serve them on the ground and all who plan for them behind the scenes, to God Who is the Father of us all, that He will deliver you from all evil and inspire you to be enthusiastic followers not only of the absorbing excitement of your own adventure but also of Him Whose dominion shall be from sea to sea and who shall speak peace to the nations. I know that in their concentration upon the task of guiding the birds of science through the air aviators can have little time to think of other things; yet surely they cannot be unaware of the new revelation of that vast and all providing Power Who brings forth the flowers and the winds out of His treasures and of the debt that they owe to Him.

MEANING OF SERVICE

Your flags hanging beside those of the Seafarers will adorn this Cathedral and will honour both it and the Colony that it serves. The meaning of this service, in which your public service is offered in worship, is to claim God's blessing in Christ's Name upon you and all your work and to claim of you that you who fly

MIDWIVES' ORDINANCE

Amendment Drafted

The "Government Gazette" publishes the draft of a Bill to amend further the Midwives Ordinance, 1910.

The objects and reasons are as follows: "Qualified nurses desiring to be or to remain registered under the Nurses Registration Ordinance, No. 1 of 1931, are required, by Regulations 5 and 6 of the Regulations made under Ordinance and published by Government notification No. 321 in the Gazette of May 22, 1931, to pay as admission fee of ten dollars and an annual retention fee of two dollars.

The Midwives Board has recommended that similar fees, but of half the amount, should be changed in the case of practising midwives.

It is considered that this recommendation necessitates the various amendments in the Midwives Ordinance which are made by this Bill.

NURSING HOMES

The "Government Gazette" also publishes the draft of a Bill to provide for the registration and inspection of nursing homes and maternity homes and for purposes connected therewith.

The objects and reasons are as follows:

The object of this Bill is to provide for the Registration of Nursing Homes, and Maternity Homes, on the lines generally of the Nursing Homes Registration Act, 1927, but maternity homes are defined separately and not included in the definition of "nursing home."

Variations between the clauses of the Bill and the sections of the Act are shown in the Table of Correspondence.

Legislation on these lines is desired by the Director of Medical and Sanitary Services, the Nursing Board and the Midwives Board.

these flags will adorn the doctrine of Christ our Saviour in all things. The Poet Laureate has written: The days are past when rocks and streams And trees were gods directing man, We are all lost among our dreams, We are all waters without plan.

The world is ours, with discontent, We have all things, save hope: we stare Into earth's secrets: we invent New swiftwings lest we despair.

Yet we have joy because we may Still light upon that simple thing Under the eyes of every day Which is the secret of the King.

O lighten us, bright star, and show The angels walking at our side, And where the glittering waters go, The lasting waters that abide.

The hymn, "Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore him," was then sung followed by the National Anthem.

The service closed with the Blessing and as the procession left the Cathedral psalm 121 was chanted.

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Ranges Crowded Again

Forthcoming Annual Dinner

The target accommodation on the Naval Range at Stonecutters proved to be entirely inadequate on Saturday afternoon last, when the largest number of members of the Hong Kong Rifle Association seen at any week-end shoot this season, crowded the ranges, with the result that firing was completed in semi-darkness. Over seventy members took part in the Spoon and Practice Shoot, and had it not been for the fact that the naval party from H.M.S. "Cumberland" found it necessary to leave after firing at 500 yards there is no possible doubt that competitors in many cases would have found it impossible to complete their shoot.

Next week-end, when the normal Spoon and Practice Shoot will be held on Sunday morning, matters should be somewhat easier, but the fact remains that, even now, with one of the keenest units away in camp—the 2nd Bn. Royal Welch Fusiliers—and with the Royal Engineers unable to get away to attend the normal shoot, and with the restriction that no affiliated member of the Association who belongs to the Regular Army is allowed to shoot on Saturday afternoons, the matter of target accommodation during the week-end still remains one of supreme difficulty.

As is well-known, the Council attempted, last year, to curtail the individual full membership by doubling, and in certain cases, trebling the annual subscription; time has shown that this supposed remedy has proved to be a complete fiasco, for this class of membership has increased during the last two months by 33½%, and is still steadily growing, while the encouragement afforded the Association by the Secretary of State for War in a speech recently made in London, is expected to result in even further increases, as regards applications for individual full membership.

Conditions, last Saturday afternoon, varied considerably; at one period the visibility of the targets was definitely bad, but later on matters somewhat improved and the targets became, once more, well defined. The wind was tricky throughout the afternoon, and many were caught by the sudden changes, both in strength and direction.

A match between the 1st Bn. Royal Ulster Rifles and the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps resulted in a win for the former by 63 points. Fuller details of this match will appear in our issue on Tuesday, when the scores will be published in detail.

Arrangements are now well in hand for the First Annual Dinner of the Association which will be held at the Peninsula Hotel on the evening of Monday, December 1. Their Excellencies the Governor, the Commander-in-Chief, and the General Officer Commanding, have each intimated their intention of honouring the function with their presence, as have the Honourable Inspector General of Police, the Commanding Officer, Hong Kong Naval Volunteer Force, and the Commandant, Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps.

A large attendance is expected in spite of the fact that, at the present time, certain of the Army units are in camp or engaged on special training.

By kind permission of Lieut.-Col. R. M. Rodwell and Officers of the 1st Bn. Royal Ulster Rifles, the band of this unit will be present, and will play during the evening.

Full particulars of this function will be made known during the forthcoming week.

Below are given, not only the detailed scores of the shoot held on Saturday afternoon last, but also those showing the result of the final stage of the Inter-Affiliated Rifle Clubs "Bellios Shield" competition, from which, it will be seen, that the Naval Range Staff Rifle Club beat the Hong Kong Police by 24 points. While congratulating the winners on their well-earned victory, the Police, with their restricted facilities for rifle-shooting, are indeed also to be congratulated, on working their way into the final stage, beating as they did several Army units, as well as the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps.

The leading scores made on Saturday afternoon were as follows:—

HOTEL PLANS FOR CORONATION

Plans by the hotel industry for the Coronation were discussed recently at the banquet at Llandudno of the Hotels and Restaurants Association, when Mr. G. Reeves-Smith, the President, amplified a statement he made earlier that nothing but fair prices and the utmost consideration and courtesy would be given to visitors.

"We shall explore every avenue in regard to accommodation, not only in London, but within a radius of 50 or 60 miles," he said.

"We shall probably have to find from 5,000 to 10,000 rooms away from London. The situation is complicated by the fact that the Government want 900 rooms for Government guests and several delegations coming to the Imperial Conference. But we will do our best."

SERVICE TRADITION

"Britain" has never been a country dominated by any kind of passionately military sentiment, but the Services have created and maintained an entirely worthy body of traditions and legends of their own.

It is, therefore, not a little surprising to find the Secretary of State for War saying that, while the Air Force is modern and has everything up to date and a great future, not the least of the Army's difficulties is that it has less romantic appeal than the other two arms.

We consider Mr. Duff Cooper over-estimates his problem.

Every regimental mess, every sergeant's canteen, every volunteers' drill hall is a shrine of romantic and vigorous tradition. The rawest recruit, a week or two after he has slouched into the depot, is bristly aware of all the battle-honours which his regiment carries, and of where and how they were won.

Cambrai in his young mind may be a little confused with Corunna and Fontenoy with Hill 60—for to-day's young all wars are a long time ago, each battle is as remote and as stirring as any other—but he knows that the cap-badges which he wears and the buttons which he so assiduously polishes have a meaning to him and to every one of his companions. He knows why two or three dusty and tattered flags hang in the cathedral to which once or twice a year the battalion marches for a ceremonial parade; and he knows why certain toasts are drunk on certain nights in the officers' mess.

The Royal Air Force clearly has its appeal to the contemporary mind, mechanical, scientific and alert to every modern development. But the Army awakens an older sense in a man, a sense of the land fought for, protected and loved by generations of ordinary men who took the recruiting sergeant's shilling and stepped lively.

And the old soldier—does he offer no evidence of a romantic tradition? Any public bar in the evening time suddenly becomes aflame with the heat and splendour of old battles re-fought. Wiring parties that went out in the unquiet autumn night twenty years ago go out again between two tankards of bitter and a box of matches. Old trenches are taken; heights, where now sleep the dead and a great memorial guards the silence, are stormed again—while middle-aged men, peaceful citizens these fifteen years and more, remember and renew their youth and their testing.

Wherever men have in companionship and under discipline endured much and not failed, wherever a few survivors have lived to tell the story in later, tranquil years, there a great tradition is established. And surely there is all the romantic appeal which the Secretary of State for War demands.

John Blystone has been engaged by Grand National to direct James Cagney's first film for them. It will go into production very shortly.

CANADIAN CHINESE CLUB

Successful Dinner Dance

LARGE ATTENDANCE

With all the gusto of a successful host the President of the Canadian-Chinese Club, Mr. George L. Chow, was here there and everywhere on Saturday night when the Club held its third annual dinner dance at the Rose Room of the Peninsula Hotel.

There was never an idle moment from the beginning of the dinner until the large throng of merry-makers were induced to leave reluctantly in the early hours of yesterday morning.

A toast to H.M. the King was given by Mr. Chow during an intermission, and Mr. J. R. Paton replied with a toast to the Republic of China.

Major V. E. Duclos, Canadian Trade Commissioner, said that he was unofficially associated with the club. He wished to compliment the officers of the club for their efforts in making the dinner dance such a successful one, and also to compliment the ladies for the great deal of work that they had done.

CLUB'S GROWTH

Mr. Chow gave a brief account of the activities of the club, of its inception three years ago with only a handful of Chinese who had returned from Canada, and which had branched out now to a much larger organization. However, there were still a great number of those who, unfortunately, he had not yet contacted, but he felt sure that in due course of time they would become members.

He thanked the public for their support given the club the past three years at their annual dinner dances, and hoped that they would have many more enjoyable occasions in the years to come.

Continuing, Mr. Chow said, "I would like to express the desire of aiding the indigents in the Colony by giving a dance at a future date, the proceeds to help those unfortunate through the winter months."

In conclusion I want to thank the dance committee, Miss Violet Capell, the Press, the Advertising and Publicity Bureau, and Mr. A. K. Diamond for the success of this evening's party.

Mr. William S. Ing performed the duties of master of ceremonies most ably, and presented the pupils of Miss Violet Capell during the intermission. Two dance interpretations were given by the charming girls, with Miss Ethel Banker at the piano.

The guests of honour at the President's table were: Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rossetti, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, Miss Elvira Yuen.

Among the prominent patrons were: Miss Nora Lum, Vice-President of the club, Dr. Li Shu-fan and party, Mr. Lyman Quon and party, Mr. Alice Greaves and party, Mr. W. S. Ing, Miss Phyllis Ing, Mr. J. Smedley, Mr. L. Alltree, Miss B. Allen, Miss Joan Lakeman, Miss Mary Chen, Mr. G. D'Almada, Mr. N. Critchley, Miss Sadie Yuen, Miss Isabel Chan, Mr. D. Walker.

The Dance Committee comprised: Miss Jean P. Mark, Miss Maple Quon, Dr. G. G. Lee, Mr. Y. T. Lee.

31-STONE MAN'S DEATH

A man who weighed 31 stone and who died at St. Giles' Hospital, Camberwell, after a fall, was the subject of an inquest recently.

He was John David Longshaw, aged 44, warehouseman, of Kensington Park-gardens, Kensington. Arthur Longshaw said his brother had a large Windsor chair made for him. Recently, as he was becoming bigger, the sides were removed and the legs shortened.

Dr. H. O. West, Medical Superintendent at the hospital, said Longshaw told him that he once weighed 35 stone, but lost a little weight in hospital. When Longshaw fell, the doctor added, he was unable to get up, and it took six porters to lift him back to bed. Death was due to acute heart failure. The heart weighed 36 ounces.

Further investigations were being made to try to ascertain the reason for Longshaw's obesity, he said.

The Coroner recorded a verdict of death from natural causes. It was his first experience of such a heavy man.

DR. SUN FO AT KWEILIN

Welcome Accorded By Leaders

Kweilin, Nov. 14.

At noon to-day, Dr. Sun Fo was accorded a grand welcome on the public athletic field by Generals Li Tsung-jen, Pei Chung-hai, Wong Kuk-cho, the leading civil and military officials, representatives of public and social bodies, and over 30,000 of the inhabitants of Kweilin.

General Li Tsung-jen, in the capacity of chairman of the welcoming committee, welcomed Dr. Sun Fo to Kwangsi in a long speech lasting one and a half hours.

He referred to the troubles which confront the Government on all sides, the importance of protective measures for self-defence, and the rehabilitation of Kwangsi, and asked for Dr. Sun Fo's advice and support.

General Li's speech was greeted by loud applause, and the surrounding hills resounded with the cries of the assembled multitude. In the afternoon, Mr. Wong Kuk-cho, Chairman of the Provincial Government, accompanied Dr. Sun Fo on a tour of the famous places of Kweilin, and in the evening he was entertained at a banquet.

It is reported that Dr. Sun Fo will fly to Nanking to-morrow morning.—Chinese Evening Press.

THE FAR EAST

"Easing Of Tension"

Mr. Eden, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs (Warwick Leamington, U.), replying to Mr. Mander (Wolverhampton, E. L.) and Mr. Grenfell (Gower, Lab.) on affairs in the Far East, said:—As regards the situation in South China, the differences which in the course of the summer troubled the relations of the Central Government and the two south-western provinces have been settled amicably. The Kuangtung authorities abandoned their resistance towards the aid of July and the Central Government was able to establish its control over the province. A settlement was also reached with the Kwangsi leaders.

As regards the position in the north, there is little apparent change, but there appear to have been a sensible diminution in the volume of goods illicitly imported. I understand that the preventive services are now enabled to function more effectively than has hitherto been possible. General discussions are at present proceeding in Nanking between the Chinese and Japanese Governments on outstanding questions. His Majesty's Government sincerely trust that these discussions may lead to a general easing of tension in the Far East.

BRITAIN AND MANCHUKUO

Sir G. Mitcheson asked whether it was proposed to recognize the present Government of Manchukuo.

Mr. Eden.—The attitude of His Majesty's Government towards this question continues to be governed by the resolution of the Assembly of the League of Nations taken on February 24, 1933.

TRAVEL COMFORT ON RAILWAYS

Canton, Nov. 15.

For the comfort and protection of the health of passengers, the Department of Railways has sent instructions to the Superintendents of the different railway administrations to pay attention to the temperature of the interior of all passenger cars which must not be permitted to reach the extremes of heat or cold.

The temperature should be kept between 65 and 70 degrees, and it is reported that all passenger cars of the Canton-Hankow Railway have been air-conditioned accordingly.—Chinese Evening Press.

SPLENDID PARTIES

On Monday last a very excellent twenty-first birthday cocktail party was given for Mrs. Weldon at their flat in Tak Shing Street. She looked very sweet as usual and was wearing cherry red and seemed to have had a wonderful lot of presents and flowers. Later in the evening she was to be seen in the Hong Kong Hotel with her husband and her mother in a large party which was given in her honour.

Another large party of the week was given by Mr. and Mrs. Scott for their daughter Sally in their house on The Peak. The party which continued until the small hours of the morning and was a great success. Nearly 60 people were there, all the younger set of Hong Kong, and a whole host of young men. Dancing took place for a long time and a splendid buffet supper was served about 9.30 p.m. Sally looked particularly charming in an old world dress of blue and mauve shot taffeta with a large bow of the same material in her hair. Hair decorations seem to be extremely popular this winter, one of the most popular being flowers which seem to have taken the place of clips. It is an attractive fashion I think, specially if the flowers are real. I wonder what the next fashion will be, surely somebody will think of something new and original and astonish us all very shortly.

Hermione Williams was at the party in oyster satin, Isobel Goode in very pale yellow taffeta with a short coat to match cut at the back with the fashionable flare. Betty Birkett and Joan Luke were two others, there, also the newly engaged couple Jean Bigg-Withers and her fiancé.

The Weldons, Mrs. Passey and Claude Burgess sat together. Hermoine Williams and Clive Garthwaite were other interested spectators. Mrs. Witham, in a suit of green was with her husband. Towards the end of the game it got decidedly cold, so for those who are going this week be wise and take a large coat.

HOTEL DANCES

Saturday night found both the Gloucester and the Hong Kong Hotel as full as usual, and the Roof Garden again continued until 3 a.m. and most people seemed reluctant to leave then and would not have done so had the band continued. "Queenie" seems to be missed at the Gloucester, and since she has left it never seems to be quite so full and hilarious. Bob and Eula in the Roof Garden seem definitely popular and had a good reception on Saturday night.

NO SIGN OF WAR

General Hertzog On The Will For Peace

General Hertzog cannot see anything liable to cause a European war, he told the United Party Congress at Pretoria recently.

"Apart from League obligations the Union Government's policy will always be that nothing but the interests of the Union can decide whether it should take part in any war. Further, this decision must be made by Parliament and not by the Cabinet."

"As the world situation stands to-day I see no reason for a European war in which South Africa might have any interest or be liable to be dragged in. We shall see that Union defences are placed on a proper footing, but this is purely for the purposes of resistance and the protection of the country."

"In spite of alarming cables from Europe there is no reason to assume that any European Powers are bent on doing anything that might create war. On the contrary I feel convinced that all great European Powers have as their underlying motive peace and co-operation."

"In any event South Africa cannot find any reason for a European war and will not regard any attempt to that end by whatever country as other than a piece of mischievous stupidity."

QUIET WEDDING

A quiet wedding took place on Saturday at St. John's Cathedral, when Miss Dauphine Lorrans Habcock, of Shanghai, became the bride of Mr. Harold Sam Carson McComb. The Rev. E. W. Baines officiated.

The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Habcock, while the witnesses were Lieutenant F. da Costa and Mr. A. Malcolm.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Jacobean Room of the Hong Kong Hotel. The honeymoon is to be spent at Repulse Bay and in Canton.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Brown, Mr. G. P. Lammert, Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sleaf and Miss Sleaf.

The South African Department of Railways and Harbours has placed a contract for the building of three steam tugs at a total cost of 270,000, with Messrs. Lobnitz and Co. of Renfrew, Scotland.

VINES AND TILDEN

The tennis enthusiasts have had a chance this last week of seeing some good tennis played by Vines and Tilden and I hear they are returning again this week to give more exhibition matches, but will be a day or two later than expected. On Tuesday they had a large crowd watching them, but they appeared to be feeling the heat very much and the game didn't seem to be as fast as one might have expected. Sir Andrew Caldecott was a very interested spectator on Tuesday, also Rear-Admiral and Mrs. C. G. Sedgwick went on the same day. Wing Commander A. G. Bishop was watching the game with Squadron Leader J. Dalsell, and Mrs. Elinton and Mrs. Lawson were together both looking very smart. Mrs. Hinton in brown and white and Mrs. Lawson in navy blue and white.

EXCITING EXPERIENCES

Young American's Many Adventures

Mr. Cimarron Hathaway, the young American who was reported on November 6 as lost in Sinkiang Province, has now been found through the efforts of a local correspondent. It was learned that Mr. Hathaway, in a state of collapse, entered Kweihua, Suiyuan Province on November 4 states the "North China Daily News."

On October 15, 1935, the 23-year-old American left Los Angeles for Bombay, arriving there on Nov. 28. From there he went to Lahore to assist Seth Prem Singh, wealthy theatre owner, in the making of "The Light of Asia," a motion picture dealing with the life of Buddha. His previous experiences as a cameraman and technical director in Hollywood studios were of inestimable value in making this picture a success.

Upon completion of "The Light of Asia," Mr. Hathaway took his camera and notebooks to Peshawar. He then went to Srinagar in Kashmir where he became a Mohammedan assuming the name, Achmed Kemal.

FROM SRINAGAR

It was in Srinagar that he first encountered terror-stricken refugees fleeing from Yarkand in Sinkiang Province. They told vivid tales of horrors as result of civil warfare in that province. Realizing the value of any photographs or other first-hand information to the outside world, Mr. Hathaway determined to enter Sinkiang, although warned against doing so.

Following the trail of the refugees he started across Zoji La Pass. The pass is 11,000 feet above sea level, and is considered practically impassable during the winter. The descent was made in a blizzard. One of his guides fell pulling him down a precipice, but the rope held and the other three guides were able to save the two dangling men. As a result of that experience he tore the muscles of one leg and his lungs were frost-bitten.

Going on to Leh, Mr. Hathaway found many more refugees and became more determined than ever to enter Sinkiang. Realizing that some knowledge of Turki was practically a necessity if he were to obtain material for a book which he had planned, he engaged a Turki man servant by the name of Tumak.

REACHES SINKIANG

In May he felt sufficiently proficient in the language to continue his journey and joined a caravan going into Sinkiang via Karakorum, and Khotan and thence to Urumchi. On account of severe fighting it was impossible for the caravan to proceed via Khotan, so they made their way to Gilgit and then across the border into Sinkiang. However, before they reached Kashgar, their first objective in that province, they were intercepted by the armies of General Lee Jung. After a week's enforced visit matters were straightened out and the caravan was permitted to go on its way.

On reaching Kashgar, Mr. Hathaway arranged through the kindness of the British Consul there for mail consisting of letters to friends, copious notes and two rolls of motion picture film to be sent back to America. While there he also arranged for the shipment of a number of objects to the Southwestern Museum in Los Angeles. Mr. Hathaway left Kashgar on June 5, and from that time until found in Kweihua nothing further was heard of him.

The message received in Shanghai stated that Mr. Hathaway had reached Urumchi safely, only to be seized by the Soviets. He was imprisoned for 116 days. It is not known here by what means Mr. Hathaway made his way from the borders of Sinkiang to Suiyuan.

GERMAN SHIPPING RESTRICTIONS VERSAILLES FETTERS SEVERED Unilateral Denunciation

Berlin, November 14.
Chancellor Adolf Hitler has denounced the clauses of the Treaty of Versailles regarding the internationalisation of rivers. The decision was communicated to the Governments concerned to-day. By this action the Chancellor has now unilaterally declared that Germany is free of every shackle imposed at Versailles, the last of which was the restriction of navigation on certain rivers of Germany.

The text of the German note shows that Germany, while renouncing the agreement, declares that shipping on all German rivers will be open to all ships of the States living at peace with Germany, and says that there will not be any discriminatory treatment of foreign vessels or regarding river tolls, provided the States concerned grant the same rights to German shipping on their rivers.

By denouncing to-day the clauses of the Versailles Treaty dealing with internationalisation of rivers, Chancellor Hitler in effect declared Germany to be free of the last shackles imposed by the Versailles clauses concerned and restricted navigation on certain of Germany's rivers.

The denunciation will presumably affect Czechoslovakian shipping on the Elbe to Hamburg and North Sea, also Dutch barges and other international traffic up the Rhine. Such shipping henceforth will be subjected to any regulations Germany may impose.

The denounced clauses form chapter three of the navigation section of part two of the Treaty, article 331, and declares that the following rivers are international: Elbe from its confluence with Moldau and Moldau itself from Prague, Oder from its confluence with Oppa, Niemen from Grodno, and the Danube from Ulm.

Article 332 lays down that national property and flags of all powers should be treated on a footing of perfect equality on those rivers without discrimination. The navigation clauses also laid down stipulations regarding freedom of navigation on the Rhine and various rights of riparian countries.

Berlin, Nov. 14.
The approaching visit of the Austrian Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Schmidt, which has already been announced by Transocean, has now been officially confirmed.

Secretary Schmidt will arrive in Berlin on the morning of November 19 for a two-day visit during which time he will have the opportunity to confer with the leaders of the Reich Government on all questions in which the two countries have mutual interest.

The conferences will have as their main object the outlining of plans for continuing the policy forecast in the agreement of July 11.

COLONEL BECK'S LONDON VISIT

Warsaw, Nov. 14.

"Two facts deserve to be especially emphasised in connection with Foreign Minister Beck's visit to London," writes the Foreign Minister's organ, the "Gazeta Polska," "one is the identity in aims and methods of England and Poland in organising peace within the framework of the League of Nations, and the second is the attitude towards the Locarno problems."

The paper also underlines the identical attitude of England and Poland against the formation of blocs, which "render international co-operation impossible and engender dangers of future wars." Eden's declaration that in the future negotiations for a Western Pact, Poland's interests should be well considered is commented upon by the paper as a noteworthy success for Beck. In conclusion the "Gazeta Polska" expresses the hope that the relations between England and Poland will become more and more intimate in the interests of both countries and that of European peace.

LAST LIMITATION REMOVED

Comment in Holland

(Hong Kong Daily Press) Special

Amsterdam, Nov. 14.
The decree issued on Saturday by the German Government re-establishing German sovereignty over the German waterways, thereby declaring a clause of the Versailles Treaty providing for international control commissions to be null and void, attracted much attention and comment in Holland.

The "Telegraf" points out that the last limitation in the Versailles Treaty with respect to German territory was now removed and the only clauses remaining are those pertaining to German colonies and changes in German frontiers.

The paper declares that these are questions, however, which can be solved only with the co-operation of the respective foreign governments.

As far as it is in her power to do so, Germany has denounced and abrogated every other clause in the Versailles Treaty pertaining to the Fatherland.

LONDON INTEREST

London, Nov. 15.

The re-establishment of German sovereignty over the German waterways is the topic of the day in the London evening press. Although it is generally agreed that the German step was to be expected and does not affect interests, the fact that provisions of the Versailles Treaty have again been denounced meets with a very cold reception.

In this connection prominence is given to the statement made by the Czechoslovakian Minister in London to the effect that negotiations in this matter had been in progress between Germany and Czechoslovakia and he did not know what his Government would say to the new German step.

SOVIET COTTON PRODUCTION

Five-Year Plan Success

Moscow, Nov. 15.

A remarkable victory is claimed for the cotton five-year plan. Picking and delivery under the plan throughout the Soviet Union was completed a month earlier than arranged in the Government schedule. Over 1,877,000 tons of raw cotton were stocked, 485,000 tons more than the corresponding period last year, while harvesting is being continued.

"Pravda" states that cotton production has tripled in comparison with pre-war years, and the Soviet is taking third place in the world after America and India for the total cotton harvest.

VIOLENT SCENE IN CHAMBER

Deputies Involved In Scuffle

Paris, Nov. 14.

The sitting of the Chamber was suspended yesterday following a violent scene during the debate concerning the military record of M. Salengro, Minister of Interior, who was recently vindicated by a Government commission following press allegations of cowardice during the Great War. About 50 deputies were involved in a scuffle in which blows were exchanged, after M. Lecourt declared that M. Salengro was a revolutionary anti-militarist before the war.

The disorder in the Chamber was among the worst ever witnessed. As M. Leon Blum, the Premier, mounted the tribune the Rightists shouted: "The man who won the war is going to speak!" The Left members rushed the Right benches and clambered over the seats and desks. Soon 50 deputies were struggling on the floor.

Black eyes and bruised shins were common when, after the uproar, the session was resumed.

APPALLING SCENES ON SATURDAY

Sixty Killed And Two Hundred Injured

London, November 15.

Reuter's special correspondent with the insurgents cables that the insurgent troops are reported to have crossed the Manzanares river between the Toledo and Princess bridges, but adds that if the report is true it is unlikely that the position can be held in Madrid.

Appalling scenes followed the air raid on Saturday. Three big insurgent bomber dropped twenty five heavy bombs in the centre of the city when the streets were crowded with shoppers. Fifty to sixty people, mostly women and children, were killed and two hundred injured.

DEAD STREWN ON PAVEMENTS

Public buildings, hotels, railway stations and many houses were damaged. The streets were torn up and the water main burst under the force of the heavy explosions.

The main objective of the raid was apparently the Ministry of Public Works on the roof of which a battery of anti-aircraft guns had been mounted.

In the nearby square scores of women and children lay dead and wounded in the pavements, while floods of water from the burst water mains rushed past the bodies.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF FIGHTING

Artillery Barrage And Air Combat

Madrid, Nov. 14.

A graphic account of Madrid's counter-offensive yesterday is given by Reuter's special correspondent with the insurgents, cabling from Campamento.

He says that the fighting was the fiercest yet seen in the civil war. There were desperate sallies and bayonet charges all day long, and machine guns almost incessantly spat fire at each other across the No Man's Land.

The Government artillery poured barrages of shrapnel at the insurgents the whole day, while overhead fighters and bombers swooped and roared, engaging each other in desperate death struggles and discharging deadly cargoes of bombs on the troops and buildings below.

The valley of the Manzanares was transformed into a veritable inferno of death and destruction, but at the end of the day neither side had gained any ground.

MACHINES IN FLAMES

A feature of the fight was the appearance of a number of new Government aeroplanes, faster than anything possessed by the insurgents. There were two fierce air battles, in which five aeroplanes were shot down. No fewer than 50 machines, bombers and fighters, participated in the first battle, and 21 in the second. The first battle took place in the morning under a blue sky in brilliant sunshine and lasted an hour. Three machines were brought down in flames.

BARRACKS BOMBED

In the afternoon three insurgent bombers heavily bombed a factory west of the Manzanares and buildings left of the Segovia Bridge, and later a formation of five insurgent bombers, escorted by 12 fighters, dropped a score of bombs from under 2,000 feet on the Montana barracks. The appeared to score at least 10 direct hits, and the whole great red-brick block of barracks disappeared from view beneath a huge cloud of smoke 300 feet high.

The five bombers were returning when nine of Madrid's new fighters suddenly appeared and engaged the bombers and their escort. The speedy Government planes seemed to have the fight all their own way. They soared up to a great height and then nose-dived and peppered the tails of their opponents with machine guns. The opponents soon retreated.

PLANE CRASHES

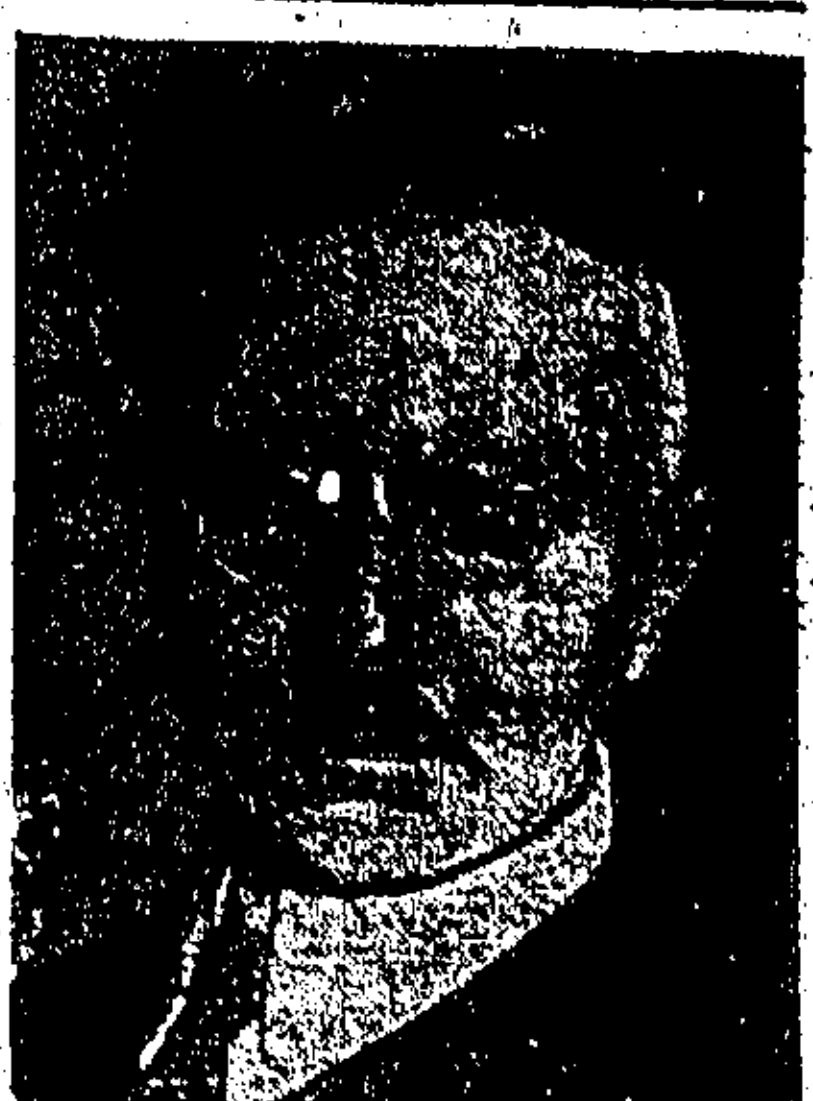

The pilot of one insurgent machine, was apparently killed by a bullet and his plane crashed beside the Segovia Bridge and burst into flames. The fight continued for half an hour, the combatants beginning to fly home when a Government machine, surprised by three insurgent fighters, dived to the ground with part of its wing ripped off. The pilot parachuted safely to the earth.

LOCAL CHINESE "DERBY"

South China "A" Beat
Chinese Athletic

ROUSING SOCCER ENCOUNTER

(BY VOX POPULI)

The premier league fixture between South China "A" and Chinese Athletic, which had been regarded as the tit-bit of the week's soccer, was played before a fairly moderate crowd at Caroline Hill on Sunday. The honours of the encounter went to South China "A" and they deserved to win, although a certain amount of praise must be donated to the losers. The assumption that China "A" would have a narrow win was hardly correct as they ran out winners by the comfortable margin of four goals to none.

Both teams played hard and gave the spectators their money worth. Mr. Kossick capably handled the game which started at 4.15 p.m. sharp.

SOUTH CHINA WIN TOSS

South China "A" won the toss and Athletic broke away from the kick-off but sent wide. In the early stages of the game the South China forwards did not seem to be too sure of themselves; their shooting being slightly erratic. Wong Mei Shun in particular at fault in this respect. The exchanges were fairly even and both keepers were called upon to protect their citadel, but both rose to the occasion with perfect precision. For the first twenty minutes, play was evenly contested, both teams having a fair share of attack and defence. A free kick just outside the penalty area to South China "A" saw Cha Sui Hang make a perfect save but about five seconds later his goal fell to Tam Kwong-Pak during a scrum in the Athletic goal-mouth.

Nothing daunted by this reverse, Athletic attacked but were unable to pierce the sterling defence of South China "A". Now China "A" commenced to exert pressure and corners were coming frequently. Bad shooting, however, prevented goals, and spoiled excellent mid-field play.

Half-time: South China "A" 1, Chinese Athletic, Nil.

RESUMPTION OF PLAY

The resumption found South China pressing home their one goal advantage and the combined efforts of Loo Wei Man and Wong Shek-ping were necessary to keep them out. Concerted pressure, however, was bound to tell and a long drive by Choi Kwai-sing from the right wing found a resting place in the net, the Athletic goalie having misjudged the shot completely.

China "A" were now having things their own way and were taking it easy. In a scramble in the Athletic goal, Tso Chui-sing's boot flew off his foot to the intense merriment of the spectators. Later Wong Mei Shun scored a really clever goal, taking the ball through on his own right from the centre of the field.

Tai Shui-wing found the net for the fourth goal with a lovely grounder a few moments before the final whistle blew for full time.

Full-time: South China "A" 4 goals, Athletic, Nil.

Lee Ting-sing for the South China team was certainly the best player on the field. Both goalkeepers played safely and well but Athletic were highly unlucky not to have found the net at least once.

TEAMS:

South China "A"—Pau Ka-ping; Lee Ting-sing, Lau Mau; Leung Wing-chui, Lau Hing-choi; Lee Kwok-wai; Choi Kwai-sing; Lai Shui-wing, Tam Kwong-pak; Wong Mei-shun, Cheng Kwai-lung.

Athletic—Cha Sui-hang; Loo Wai-man, Wong Shek-ping; Cheng Yik-kung; Ng Tak-wing; Loo Wai-kuen; Kwok Lam-sung; Chin Chi-lan; Lee Hong-ching; Lee Tak-kai, Chang Mon-wing.

KOWLOON WIN

Playing on their own ground the Kowloon Football Club beat the Hong Kong Club by the odd goal to three on Saturday. The Kowloon forwards were not very sure of themselves. However, this defect was remedied as the game went on. After about ten minutes D. Knox netted a fast shot which beat Rodgers thus opening the score for Kowloon.

Kowloon's second goal was from a penalty against S. Strange. D. Knox converting from the spot-

DEFEAT "HERMES"

The Club beat H.M.S. Hermes by two goals, two penalty goals and a try (19 points) to a penalty goal (3 points), on Saturday at the Valley.

The game was the best of the season and was featured by splendid passing, running and tackling.

Bidwell opened the scoring with a corkscrew run through the sailors' defence to score wide of the posts. Watson falling with the kick. Later the Hermes were penalised for off-side and Watson landed a penalty goal with a good effort.

The Hermes were awarded a free-kick for an infringement near the half-way mark and Evans, landed a drop at goal.

The second half saw the Club backs assert their superiority and Bidwell paved the way for a fine try on the left, sending Chadwick over in the corner for Watson to convert with a brilliant effort.

Watson increased the score with another penalty-goal and Bidwell crossed the Hermes' line after a fine effort, adding the points himself.

RIFLES BEATEN

A ragged game was witnessed at the Valley when the Club "A" beat the Royal Ulster Rifles by a goal and a try (8 points) to nil.

kick. After Kowloon's second goal the Club forwards increased their efforts and worried Everest and Bowen. Minihinet brought off several saves but was unable to stop Fowler getting the only goal for the Club.

CLOSE GAME

The Royal Welch Fusiliers defeated St. Joseph's by the odd goal in three at Chatham Road on Saturday.

The Saints fought hard with ten men for almost three quarters of the game, owing to Elms being injured early in the first half. The outstanding players were the Saints backs, Souza and Costa.

RIFLES JUST MANAGE

Failing to convert a penalty kick in the last minute of the game the Easterns were robbed of a well deserved point and left the Royal Ulster Rifles winners in a game in which they were made to look anything but the redoubtable side that their previous performances have suggested them to be.

The Rifles just managed to gain their lone goal through Doherty nine minutes after the kick-off. Cheng Sui Hong's spot-kick which would have earned the Eastern the maximum points was felled by Connor.

Tau Hang gave a fine display between the sticks.

POLICE DEFEATED

The Police were defeated by the Navy by five goals to one at Causeway Bay.

Opening the score for the Navy Tippett beat McHardy at close range through a pass by McLeod. Three more goals were scored for the Navy within the last ten minutes of the first half, twice Le Page netted from two accurate centres by Baxter and the later by a fine centre from Tippett.

In the second half McLeod headed the ball into the net from a high centre by Tippett after beating North and Bone. Shortly before the final whistle Rose scored the only goal for the Police.

MAMAK HOCKEY

At the Marina ground yesterday, the K.I.T.C. "A" defeated the "D" Coy, R.U.R., by five goals to nil, one of the goals resulting from a penalty bully.

It was evident from the start that the Indians were far superior in all departments of the game, so much so that they netted four goals in the first half.

With such a commanding lead, the Indians were inclined to take things easily in the second half and were only able to score one. The final whistle ended the game with the Indians worthy winners of a very mediocre encounter.

The goal-scorers were:—Praya Singh (4) and J. M. Pinto (1).

SPLENDID HOCKEY VICTORY

Nomads Defeat "A" Coy. R.U.R.

(BY "J.H.F.")

After a hard tussle, the Nomads beat "A" Coy., R.U.R., by three goals to two in a Mamak Tournament fixture at the Murray Parade ground yesterday morning.

From the initial bully, the Nomads attacked strongly and were rewarded ten minutes later, R. M. da Silva beating the custodian to the ball and scoring into an open goal after a rasper from S. A. Reed had hit the upright. The first half ended with no further scoring, though the large crowd of spectators were given excitement in plenty, the Nomads on one occasion missing three open goals in practically as many minutes.

The second half commenced with the Nomads still on the offensive and a few minutes later a fine movement by the forwards saw G. Soares add another to their tally.

The Rifles were by no means beaten and in a melee in front of the Nomads' goal-mouth, Sgt. Adams netted. Gaining incentive from this goal the soldiers took the offensive but they were kept in check by the first time clearances of the visitors' defence.

A quarter of an hour before the end, the Nomads scored their third goal. Receiving a pass from the right half Silva took the ball down the wing and near the 25 yards line centred to Reed whose shot hit the custodian's pads and rebounded into play. G. Soares who had cut in received the ball on its rebound and scored with a hard drive.

Nothing daunted, the Rifles commented a series of raids and five minutes before the end Sgt.

I.R.C.—125 for 8 wks (A.R. Kitchell 56, H.T. Barma 31, F.J. Ling 5 for 40).

Playing at home, the Hong Kong C.C. drew with the Army "C" team. Scores:—Army—196 for 9 wks, dec. (Whitehead 108 not out, Davies 32, W. Stoker 5 for 54).

H.K.C.C.—190 (for 7 wks) (G.G. Gahagan 33).

FRIENDLY MATCHES

A friendly fixture in the Senior League was played between the Civil Service C.C. and the Army at the Valley and resulted in a draw. The Army batted first and scored 156 for 5 wickets, declared. Cpl. Johnson scored 54. Lieut. C.C. Garthwaite 39 and Capt. D.W. Perisse 33. H.J. Crutwell took two wickets for four runs. Civil Service scored 114 for 5 wickets when stumps were drawn. G.R. Sayer contributed 38 and R.H. Griffiths 28. Garthwaite took 2 for 20.

At Pokfulam, the University defeated the Royal Navy by one wicket. Scores:—Royal Navy—135 (Lieut. Phillimore 24, Lieut. Hunting 22, Prof. Ride 3 for 24, K.L. Ng 3 for 31).

Univ.—137 for 9 wks (K.L. Ng 40, E.L. Gosano 39, A.B. Marsh 4 for 30).

Playing in their first game of the Mamak Hockey Tournament, the Argonauts "A" scored a deserving three-one victory over "C" Company, Royal Ulster Rifles, playing on the Murray Parade ground, yesterday morning. The game was a hard fought one and the Argonauts obtained their victory through their superiority in their forward combination, although their defence was apt to be shaky at times. Both teams kept the game at a fast pace throughout.

Within five minutes of the start, B. Gosano mapped up a pass from Nolasco playing at inside-right and opened the scoring after a short scuffle with the Rifles' custodian. Before half-time the Rifles evened the score through Ferguson.

The second session opened with the Argonauts resuming their attacking play and a few minutes later they were successful in getting the lead once more through B. Gosano netting the ball again. With only two minutes to end the winners increased the lead when A. S. Xavier dribbled through the goals and beat the goalie.

Victory beat Alves with an easy shot to reduce their deficit.

Excitement was high when the teams lined up but the final whistle brought the game to a close before either side could get on the move again.

TENNIS MATCHES IN CANTON

Kowloon Cricket Club Entertained

LADIES WIN

The Kowloon Cricket Club tennis party, comprising Misses M. Griffiths, A. Mackenzie, O. Dalziel, Messrs. W. W. Hirst, V. H. Freeman, A. W. Ramsay, R.S. Capell, A. G. M. Philipps, S. A. Gray and E. C. Fincher left Hong Kong on Friday night on the s.s. Fat-shan for Canton to play in their annual match against the Deutsche Garten Klub.

Arriving in Canton at daylight, the visitors had a practice match during the morning and official matches played in the afternoon. The position at the close of play was five matches all.

The visiting ladies won all their matches, Miss Griffiths and Miss Mackenzie being the most impressive. Miss Dalziel also played a steady game. The German ladies were no match for their young opponents.

Of the men only Gray and Capell won at the expense of H. Rode and H. Schneider, both playing well. G. Bodiker and W. Sander beat Gray and Fincher, the winners playing well together.

On Saturday night a dinner was held in honour of the visitors followed by a dance a large crowd attended.

Yesterday morning members of both teams engaged in a shooting match and this was followed by the remainder of the tennis matches.

Results were as follows:—S. A. Gray beat H. Rode 6-3, 6-3; A. W. Ramsay lost to W. Nogaitzik 3-6, 1-6; A. G. M. Philipps lost to W. Sander, 0-6, 1-6; R. S. Capell beat H. Schneider 4-6, 6-1; 6-2; W. W. Hirst lost to E. Diller 1-6, 2-6; V. H. Freeman lost to H. Lehman 9-11, 3-6.

Miss M. Griffiths beat Mrs. A. Kantzer 6-0, 6-0; Miss O. Dalziel beat Mrs. E. Rode 8-6, 6-2; Miss A. Mackenzie beat Mrs. M. Lehman 6-0, 6-1.

E. C. Fincher and S. A. Gray lost to Bodiker and Sander 4-6, 3-6.

KOWLOON GOLF CLUB

Junior Championship Qualifiers

The following qualified for the Junior Championship played over the Kowloon Golf Course yesterday morning:

T. Henderson, W. Kershaw, J. E. Humble, E. H. Hanlon, C. G. Anderson, H. F. Westlake, W. C. Fincher, E. G. Judd, E. W. Gardiner, J. R. Leigh, H. Watts, J. Gellatley, H. C. Borer, F. A. Hill, S. Jex and W. A. Bland.

TILDEN AND VINES

W. T. Tilden and H. Ellsworth Vines, the two famous professional lawn tennis players who gave an exhibition in the Colony on the Stand Court of the Hong Kong Cricket Club last week, are expected to return to the Colony next Friday when it is hoped they will give a further five-set exhibition on the same court commencing at 3 p.m. sharp. This will, it is hoped, be followed by the last five-set exhibition match on Saturday.

Tilden has autographed a tennis racket which is now being raffled in aid of Earl Hall's Poppy Day Fund. Tickets are obtainable at all sports clubs.

ESCOBAR RETAINS HIS TITLE

New York, Nov. 14. Sixto Escobar, world bantam-weight boxing champion, retained his title here when he knocked out Indian Quintana, from Panama, after 1 minute 39 seconds in the first round of their scheduled 10-round bout.

After the fight the police invaded the gallery and arrested twelve persons who endeavoured to carry on the evening's hostilities with drawn knives.

COLLAPSE OF TOURISTS

N.S.W. Well Ahead

MUDGE TAKES SIX WICKETS

Sydney, Nov. 14.

New South Wales, with six second innings wickets in hand, are 242 runs ahead of the M.C.C. as the result of the second day's play in their four-day encounter.

Resuming their innings before 20,000 people at 1 for 0, the M.C.C. collapsed sensationally before Mudge, losing their last seven wickets for 68 runs in 46 minutes. They actually lost five wickets for 18 runs in half an hour! The tourists, who were 79 for 2 at lunch and 103 for 4 at one period, were dismissed for 153.

Mudge, practically an unknown player, had the following very fine bowling figures:—

O. M. R. W.
12 3 42 6

In scoring 70, Barnett batted for 143 minutes, hitting eight boundaries. Hammond, who had previously scored four centuries in as many matches, was stumped by W. A. Oldfield off Mudge for 39, while G. O. Allen, the English skipper, was out first ball.

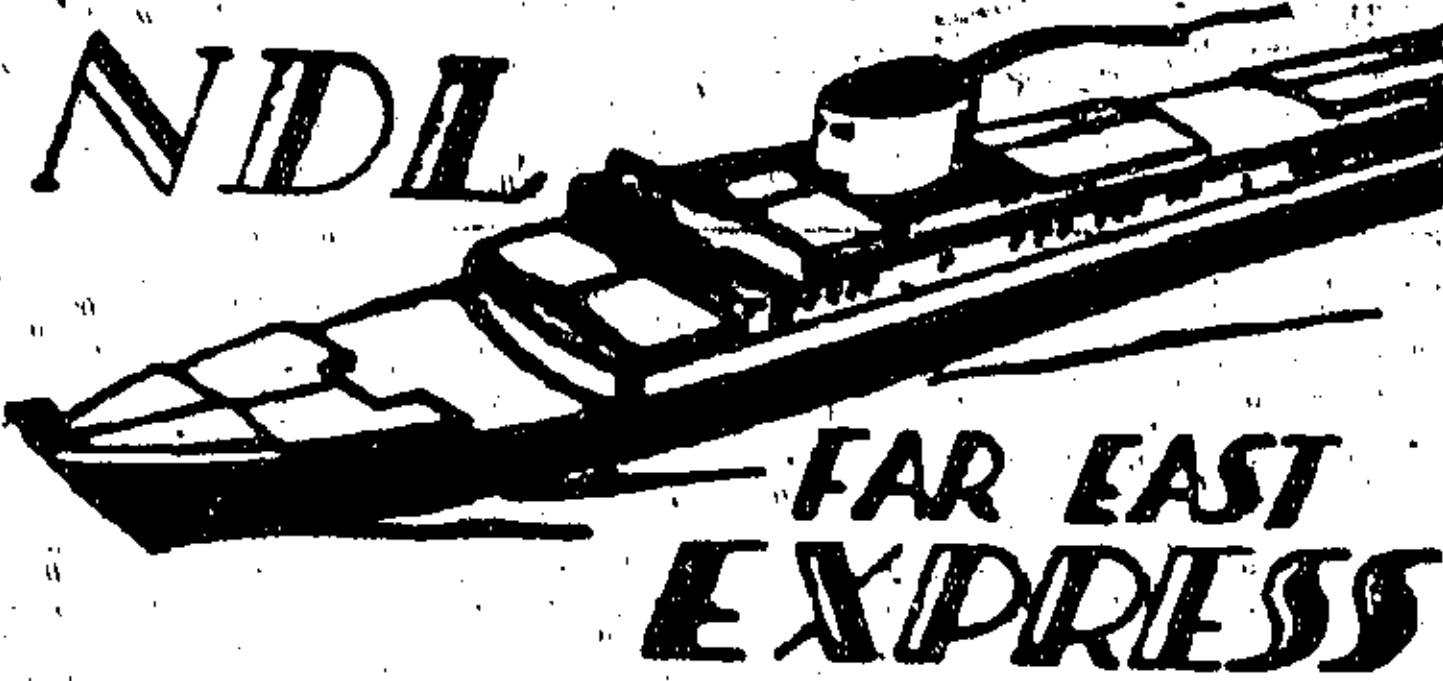

Commencing their second innings with a lead of 120 runs, New South Wales had scored 122 for 4 before bad light caused play to be abandoned for the day.

Scores, as cabled by Reuters, were as follows:—N.S.W.: 273 (S. J. McCabe 83, Robinson 91, Hammond 5 for 30, G. O. Allen 2 for 45, Copson 1 for 71, Sims 2 for 73, Worthington 0 for 31) and 122 for 4.

M.C.C.: 153 (Barnett 70, Hammond 39, G. O. Allen 0, Mudge 6 for 42, Hynes 0 for 19, White 1 for 18, McGilvray 0 for 19, W. J. O'Reilly 3 for 53).

Hong Kong 14th Nov., 1936. [4919]CYCLES FOR 18/- EACHAnd They Last Eight Years

JAPAN'S LATEST

A bicycle that will sell for 18s and will last eight years will be put on the market shortly by the Bicycle Manufacturers' Association of Tokyo, who have issued some remarkable figures about the export growth of Japan's bicycle trade, states the "Bulletin".In 1929 Japan exported bicycles, spare parts, and tyres to the value of 8,690,000 yen ($280,000 roughly).
In 1932 the figures had grown to
2,276,000 yen (about £350,000).The Bicycle Trust, or Bicycle Manufacturers' Association, was formed in 1932. Steps were taken to modernise all existing equipment in the Japanese factories and cut the cost of production.

DOUBLED FIGURES

In 1933, one year after its inception, the Bicycle Trust doubled the export figures of the previous year.
Bicycles and parts worth 16,423,100
yen (about £2,750,000) were exported.
This figure rose to 24,803,000
yen (about £4,100,000) in 1934.THE SHARE
MARKETHarriman's Weekly
Review

The week just passed has proved an exciting one for mining share holders for the Manila market has been subject to very wide fluctuations in rates. For some time past Philippine mining shares have been inclined to ease, but on Tuesday and Wednesday the market dropped with great rapidity and values declined up to 50%. The market showed a remarkable rally during Thursday and this recovery was continued up to Friday's close, bringing quotations back to within about twenty per cent of those obtaining at the end of last week.

Antamoks fell to Ps. 2.90, but close at Ps. 3.70. San Mauricos were at one time as low as Ps. 1.60 (and even lower figures were quoted unofficially) but steadied, to lose with transactions at Ps. 2.85. Baguio fell to 27 centavos and reacted again up to 32 centavos. Consolidated Mines reached 3 centavos, but came back again to 4 centavos. The whole list was subject to very heavy selling, all of which was absorbed (although under such circumstances at lowered rates) which speaks well for the finances of the Manila market. The subsequent strong rally after this "shake-out" put operators in good fettle and a little more disposed, in future, to take profits, rather than to hold on indefinitely, under the illusion that "the sky's the limit."

Hong Kong shares have been rather neglected in view of the speculative activity in gold mining stocks, but a steady undertone prevails and when buyers again take interest, rates should trend upwards. Hong Kong Electric was dealt in at $3 and Star Ferries at $2 and $2½, closing buyers at the better rate. Trams were sold at $12.50 and China Lights (old) at $14 sellers over. Yaumatei Ferries are wanted at $14, sellers holding for $14.25. Canton Insurances were placed at $265 and Unions and Banks continue in unsatisfied demand at $600 and $1875 respectively. Hotels are quiet, either side of $6.10. Lands appear friendless, shares offering at $36.50, without attracting buyers. Rauba are wanted at $12 and New Goldfields at $6.60. Telephones (old) are in good demand near $29 and Cements at $11.45. Ewo Cottons are in better enquiry at $11.75 buyers. Closing tone firm, both in Hong Kong and Manila.

CANADA ATTRACTS TOURISTS

Ottawa, Nov. 14.
The number of tourist entering
Canada during this year was almost a million more than in 1935.
While the total expenditure of tourists was $59,000,000. The highest expenditure by tourists was in year 1932 when the figure was $63,000,000.

Reuter's Bulletin Service

One-fourth of the export trade is with the Malay States and British India, though the Dutch East
Indies are the largest importers.
This last country, alarmed at the amount of the Japanese imports, placed in January, 1935, a duty of 35 per cent on Japanese products.
Since that date the Japanese manufacturers have been directing their efforts towards the securing of the New Zealand market.

NEWS FROM THE WATERFRONT

WEEK-END CARGO RETURNS

(BY LONGSHOREMAN).
During the 24 hours ended at 9.00 a.m. yesterday, a total of 8 ships brought over 4,923 tons of cargo to the Colony and carried 24,842 tons for through ports. These ships brought 389 Asiatic deck passengers to Hong Kong. During the period under review 18 ships left the Colony.

OWNERS OF QUEEN MARY

Will Refuse "Blue Riband" Trophy

If the owners of the Normandie offer to hand over the Hales Cup to mark the Queen Mary's conquest of the blue riband of the Atlantic, the Cunard-White Star Company will be obliged to refuse the trophy, it was stated at the company's Liverpool offices recently.

"The company have never considered it wise to be associated with this trophy, and they will never put in a claim for it," said a spokesman.

To qualify for the cup, presented by Mr. H. K. Hales, former M.P. for Hanley, a liner must hold the speed record for a clear three months.

With the approach of winter, there is little likelihood of the Normandie setting up a new record.
